CULT QUARTERS BOMBED; 9 DEAD

Disgruntled Pair Blamed

Bearded, Barefoot Mystic, 2 Children Among Victims Of California Blast

Chatsworth, Calif. (AP)—Two disgruntled former members of a curious religious cult Wednesday night were identified by detectives as the men who dynamited the sect's headquarters, killing 9 and possibly 10 persons.

The dynamiters are believed to have died in the blast.

They were identified as Ralph Muller, 33, of Joshua Tree Park, Calif., and Peter Dumas Kamenoff, 42.

Victims of the blast early Wednesday included two children and the cult's bearded, barefoot leader, a self-styled mystic who called himself Krishna Venta. He had a long record of arrests.

Recordings Left

Detectives said that Muller and Kamenoff left tape recordings of their plans. A tape recorder, two tapes and dynamite caps were found in a truck belonging to Muller.

Venta

Undersheriff B. B. Cummins of Ventura County said the men "wanted to bring Krishna Venta to what they termed justice, whether they meant religious justice or otherwise I wouldn't attempt to say."

"They said they were going to take care of their problems in their own way," Cummins said. "What the problems were, we don't know. These people (cult members) won't give information."

Both May Be Dead

Cummins said it's possible both men were killed in the blast. Whether they deliberately planned suicide, he didn't know.

Added Cummins:

"One of them said on the tape: 'If we don't come back, people will understand.'

Kamenoff, on his tape, said Krishna had separated him from his wife and child by persuading her to stay in Alaska, where the cult is establishing a colony.

Shattering Explosion

At 2 a.m. came the earth shattering explosion that tore apart the colony's main building, shaking houses a mile away.

Venta, 47, whose true name was Francis Heindswatzer Pencovic, was a former shipyard worker in San Francisco who enjoyed a colorful career as a cultist after 1951. That was the year in which, he once said, he "settled down" to religious works following a series of arrests that dated from 1930. Most of these were for vagrancy or petty larceny, but one was a Mann Act charge 23 years ago on which he was not prosecuted.

Venta considered himself the reincarnation of Jesus. He called himself Master of the WKFL Fountain of the World. The initials stand for wisdom, knowledge, faith and love, the movement's aims.

He and his male followers, bearded, long-haired and in flowing green robes, were picturesque figures. Women also went barefoot and wore robes. The cult attracted wide attention for its help in fighting brush fires and working with rescuers after earthquakes and floods.

5-Year Policy Urged

Humphrey Asks Plan To Match Russians

Minneapolis (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) back from a 9-day visit in Russia, Wednesday urged that the United States and its allies unite in a "5-year" plan for "rising nations" to match and surpass Russia's programs.

Speaking at a public luncheon sponsored by the Minneapolis area Chamber of Commerce, Humphrey said the free world must set forth its goals.

Russian programs, such as the new 7-year plan, are psychological as much as economic documents, "and a part of the cold war," Humphrey said.

The senator said Soviets know their people cannot be satisfied with what they have, can be held in line only by hopes and expectations of what they will have.

"Every time I talked to a Russian, he's talking about tomorrow," Humphrey said. "That's why their 5 and 7-year plans are more than economic documents. They're really psychological planning."

Humphrey said the "critical" country in the area of aid to rising nations is India.

"The success of India's democracy is of vital importance to the security of the United States," he said. "What we do to help India is not an act of kindness and compassion but a decision that will fundamentally affect our future well-being."

Humphrey indicated this subject came up during his conference with President Eisenhower Tuesday, and that it also will be a major topic in the new Congress.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful," he asked, "if our people would sit down with officials of Latin America and outline a 5 or 10-year sociological and economic program for Latin America, to cover health, education, agriculture and other fields?"

Council Representation Stirs Charter Hearing

. . . Some Want 'Districts,' Others Seek 'At-Large'

By Virgil Falloon

"District" representation versus the present "at-large" system for electing Council members appeared the major issue in the proposed 34 City Charter amendments aired at a special public meeting Wednesday night.

Three different plans for district representation were outlined before the City Council at the hearing with Charter Revision Committee members in attendance.

While about 15 persons spoke, approximately 75 persons packed into the Council chambers at City Hall.

Jack Smith of the Northeast Communities Council urged a plan to elect 4 councilmen by districts and the mayor and 2 councilmen elected at large.

All would be elected for 4 years, but on staggered terms every 2 year under Smith's plan.

9 Members

Another plan with a 9-member Council with 6 elected by districts and 2 councilmen and the mayor elected at large was advocated by Miles Johnston, an attorney.

"There's nothing innately wrong with the present system," Johnston said, "but the natives are getting restless—they want to feel they are being represented. There is some merit in the ward system."

C. O. Blanchard, who had proposed a 6-district plan for councilmen earlier in the week, expressed a willingness to accept a compromise plan of district and at-large representation.

Meanwhile, he said, his initiative petition move for 6 districts is going forward.

Chairman Frank Williams said the Charter Revision Committee would consider the proposed Council election plans and other charter suggestions.

'Open Mind'

While noting the Committee had favored at at-large system in past deliberations, Williams said his committee would consider "with an open mind" the proposed plans suggested at the meeting.

He said an open session would be called soon, with particular attention being given the council plan and referendum-initiative amendments.

Mayor Bennett Martin noted the charter committee had held some 50 meetings in formulating the proposed 34 amendments.

Each Explained

City Clerk Theo Berg read a short explanation of each amendment, most of which were minor changes to streamline the City Charter in view of the city's growth to nearly 128,000 persons.

Williams urged that the City Council endorse all of the proposed amendments it selects to submit to the voters.

While various district plans were submitted, several persons spoke in favor of the present at-large system.

Dr. David S. Rausten, College View resident, charged that "if individuals come out and vote, they can elect representatives. Don't divide a city against itself with geographical areas. I did favor districts, but now I'm for at-large representation."

L. K. Emry urged that the percentage of referendum signatures be based on the last election rather than changed to the total number of registered voters.

A number of persons made other suggestions for changes in the proposed City Charter amendments.

Joe R. Seacrest: City polling hours should be 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., the same as the state polls. Succession powers to the Council should be provided in case all its members are wiped out in a single disaster. Staggered terms for councilmen even if elected on a geographical basis.

Lloyd Hendricks: No provision is made for union recognition of employes. Also, city employes should have a representative on the City Personnel Board.

George Knight: District representation would provide better representation on the Council. The charter should provide for definite notice by registered mail to property owners affected by special assessment districts or zoning change proposals.

Bus Knight: president of University Place Businessmen: Members on the various city committees should be appointed on a geographical basis to provide better representation and the best men.

Mrs. Douglas Guy: "I think the amendments as now proposed are good for the city as a whole."

Also speaking were Eleanor Brown, Chris Kuhner, and Leo Bartunek.

Mayor Bennett Martin presided at the two-hour meeting.

MERCURY TO INCH UPWARD SOME MORE

Another slight warming is expected over the state Thursday with the mercury climbing to 48 in some areas, the Weather Bureau reports.

Partly cloudy skies are on tap for most of the state with temperatures ranging in highs of 38 to 48.

The state's high temperature Wednesday was recorded at Grand Island, where the thermometer reached 40. Imperial recorded the Nebraska low with a reading of -2.

Lincoln had a Wednesday high of 35, while recording a low of 10. Gentle to moderate southerly winds are expected over the Lincoln area Thursday.

Owls Always Did Like Dark

An owl caught in a high voltage transmision line on 1st. St., about 4 blocks north of Pioneer, caused a 40-minute power failure in large areas of south and east Lincoln. The outage extended north to A St.

The dead bird was removed by Consumers Public Power District service men after it had temporarily knocked two substations out of commission.

N.Y. City Papers Slowed

Delivery Strikers Halt Press At Daily News

New York (AP) — A renewed strike of deliverymen swept New York newsstands clean of newspapers Wednesday, but all but one morning paper rolled out their Thursday editions anyway.

The Daily News was forced to skip first editions when composing room workers defied their own union president and refused to cross picket lines.

The only outlet for those that did publish was over-the-counter sales at the plants.

Picket lines posed a threat to continue operation of all 9 of the city's major dailies. They employ more than 20,000 persons and have a combined payroll of over 2 million dollars a week.

The International Typographical Union is not on strike, but its members refused to cross the lines at the News' big West 42nd Street building.

Nation's Largest

Shortly thereafter the News, which has the nation's largest circulation with more than 2 million daily readers, announced through business manager George Donnelly:

"As it now stands, we can't get a paper to press."

The New York publishers customarily regard a breach of contract against one paper as a breach against all, since contracts are citywide. Thus the ITU action at the News posed the possibility of a shutdown of all 9 big New York dailies.

The Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union originally struck against the newspapers at midnight Sunday for a $10 a week wage package, plus improved vacation, holiday, sick leave and work week clauses in their contract.

Package Plan

The first strike ended in less than 8 hours with negotiators agreeing on a $7 a week wage boost, spread over two years—the same pattern established by the newspapers in earlier negotiations with the New York Newspaper Guild.

Present base wages for deliverers are $103.82 a week.

In a ratification meeting Tuesday night the deliverers voted 877 to 722 against accepting the $7 package which had ended the earlier strike. They then renewed their walkout.

Regulus Sea Test Success

Fired From Ship To Land Target

Point Mugu, Calif. (AP) — The Navy fired a Regulus II guided missile from a ship in the Pacific missile range Wednesday — bringing closer a new era in global warfare.

The ship, for all practical purposes, was a surfaced submarine.

Its forward hull has been converted to duplicate the launching system of the USS Halibut, the nation's first nuclear-powered missile submarine. The Halibut will be launched in San Francisco next month. Its skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Walter Dedrick, was aboard the launch vessel — the USS King County — to observe Wednesday's test firing.

The Regulus II, a 1,000-mile, 57-foot missile, was fired about a mile off Point Mugu, headquarters of the Pacific missile range. Twenty-nine minutes later it was over its target at Tonopah, Nev., after a 250-mile trip under the guidance of Navy chase jets and ground stations. It landed 15 minutes later.

Malfunction

An attempt to launch the Regulus II from the King County failed Tuesday because of a malfunciton in the ships wiring. Success of Wednesday's firing means the Navy will soon be ready—with the launching of the Halibut and other submarines of its type—to take atomic warheads through ocean depths to the shores of any enemy country.

The King County skipper, 33-year-old Lt. Joe Metcalf, told newsmen aboard for the test that Wednesday's firing was not solely experimental.

"There are no scientists directing this shot," Metcalf said. "This is an all-Navy operation. Some research and development work is going on, to be sure, but we are also far enough advanced to be training ordinary Navy men to use this bird as a tactical submarine weapon."

The Regulus II is neither as fast nor as long-ranged as the IRBMs that upcoming submarines will carry. It differs from ballistic missiles also in that it can be guided in flight. A ballistic missile, like an artillery shell, cannot change its course after launch.

Return Asked

Sacramento (UPI) — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight asked the state of Michigan to return a man convicted of murder 26 years ago to California.

Reid escaped from a Plumas forestry camp Sept. 21, 1946.

'County Jurors Making Mockery Of Enforcement'—Gorham

By Del Harding

City Prosecutor Thomas Gorham Wednesday blasted Lancaster County jurors, declaring they have been making a "mockery of law enforcement in the City of Lincoln."

Gorham's statement was prompted by the second acquittal in two days by a Lancaster District Court jury of a man charged with drunken driving. In each case the defendant had appealed a Municipal Court conviction.

"It appears," Gorham said, "regardless of the evidence present, the jurors of Lancaster County will not convict a person of drunken driving within the City of Lincoln unless the defendant was actually prostrate as the result of drinking liquor. The jurors of Lancaster County have made a mockery of law enforcement in the City of Lincoln."

The acquittals at this and past jury terms has prompted Gorham to reduce 9 drunken driving charges to reckless driving so far at this jury term, which opened Monday. And he said he will amend 8 more to reckless within the next few days.

All 17 persons were convicted in Municipal Court of drunken driving within the City of Lincoln, fined $100 and had their driver's licenses suspended 6 months. But all appealed to District Court where they would have a jury trial (only a judge hears Municipal Court cases).

Gorham noted that on one of the acquittals a body specimen measuring .45% of alcohol was taken from the defendant after his arrest. State law provides a presumption of being under the influence with a measurement of only .15%.

At Best, 50%

Gorham said the highest percentage of drunken driving convictions in the District that he has ever had has been only 50%.

Latest to be found innocent of a drunken driving charge by a jury was Wilfred J. Oelling of Roca. Robert M. Haskell of Lincoln was found innocent of the same charge Tuesday.

The following persons pleaded guilty Tuesday to reduced charges of reckless driving and were fined $100 each: Floyd R. Campbell, 42, of 2829 P; Louis W. Hac, 44, of 1600 Arapahoe; Gene E. Minear, 38, of 4848 Meredeth; Josef Foksowicz, 1735 N; Dennis L. Pokorny, 28, of 1710 Sewell; and Lee E. Slothower, 33, of 1119 K.

All had been convicted of drunken driving in Municipal Court, fined $100, had their licenses suspended 6 months, but had appealed.

Gorham dismissed a drunken driving charge against Robert S. Bauer, 34, of 1232 D. Gorham said Bauer, who had also appealed a lower court conviction, was undergoing treatment for alcoholism at the Hastings State Hospital.

Also dismissed was a reckless driving charge against John David Provoo of Lincoln. Provoo was recently sentenced to a 3-year Men's Reformatory term on a sodomy charge. He had appealed a conviction and $75 fine from Municipal Court on the traffic charge.

Elford L. Gunnels, 31, of 220 No. 16th, dismissed his appeal of a drunken driving conviction. His was a Safety Patrol case, however, not a city complaint.

David L. Simmons of 646 So. 19th dismissed his appeal of a disorderly conduct charge. He had been convicted and fined $25 on the charge in the lower court.

Lincoln To Have 28 Air Stops Daily Under New Schedules

. . . Boon To Local Industry, Spokesmen Predict

By Don Walton

The vast local air service network which will connect 17 Nebraska communities early next year will be especially beneficial to Lincoln, jubilant air officials noted Wednesday.

Civil Aeronautics Board-approved routings due to go into effect Feb. 16 will provide a minimum of 28 air stops in Lincoln daily.

Such comprehensive and modern transportation service will be a boon to local industry and aid in attracting new facilities to Lincoln and all parts of Nebraska, air spokesmen predicted.

Lincoln's Municipal Airport can handle new Frontier Airlines flights approved Tuesday and United Air Lines traffic with only the addition of a chain-length fence north and south along the existing apron to double gate facilities, State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr noted.

However, he pointed out, Lincoln should give immediate consideration to construction of a new municipal airport to solve existing traffic integration problems with the Lincoln Air Force Base and provide facilities for executive aircraft, now unable to land in Lincoln.

With industry increasingly relying on fleets of large private aircraft, Lincoln would do well to construct a facility to handle such traffic and provide a further incentive to industrial growth, Harr said.

Meanwhile, United and Fronteir officials, in co-operation with the city, are working out terminal space problems satisfactorily, spokesmen said.

Lincoln is now limited to handling 3 aircraft on the ground at the same time, but with additional gate facilities can increase its on-the ground load to 6.

Staggered scheduling arrangements would aid in simplifying additional air operations here, officials noted.

"Lincoln loses no air service due to CAB's decision and gains tremendously," Harr pointed out.

Braniff Airlines will no longer serve Lincoln under the ruling, but Frontier assumes its operations south to Kansas City, Mo., with an expanded schedule.

Non-Stop to K.C.

Frontier will provide non-stop air service from Lincoln to Kansas City daily, according to all indications. Such service was authorized and traffic is expected to warrant the flight.

Although United drops air service to Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff under the ruling, it is expected to provide non-stop daily service from Lincoln to Denver, Colo.

In addition, Fronteir was given permission by the CAB to provide one-stop service from Lincoln to Denver if it so wished, Frontier officials informed the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Thus, officials pointed out, Lincoln gains greatly from new routings.

North Route OK

Fronteir's only present Lincoln service through northern Nebraska has been "satisfactorily meeting expectations" as far as traffic is concerned, Glenn Emmons, station manager, said Wednesday.

(CAB routings are based on a policy of "use it or lose it" in regard to cities which are served. Minimum requirements call for an average of at least 5 passengers daily.)

The northern route, previously temporary, becomes permanent with enactment of the new order.

Emmons noted that Frontier is "very happy" with its approved statewide network.

Fronteir is presently remodifying aircraft to meet its new service commitments, he said, and will provide Lincoln with DC-3's and possibly 44-passenger Convair 404's if traffic demands so dictate.

United will probably adjust its schedules with the new order, according to John Geisel, but will not doubt continue its 3 daily flights to and from Chicago, in addition to likely substituting its present 3-stop service to Denver with a non-stop daily round-trip flight.

'Teamwork' Cited In Air Route OKs

Teamwork involving the State Department of Aeronautics, Nebraska city officials and civic organizations and support of the state's congressional delegation were credited Wednesday with Nebraska's successful quest for comprehensive air service.

New routes approved Tuesday by the Civil Aeronautics Board boosts Nebraska to No. 3 in the nation in amount of local air service. Only Texas and California rank higher.

Asked to explain why Nebraska, 15th among the 49 states in area and 33rd in population, fared so well in the air, State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr said:

'Fought Together'

"We all fought together until we got it. We made up our mind what was needed, tried to be reasonable about it and got all cities to agree on the route pattern. Then we received the unanimous support of our congressional delegation. Working together did it."

Harr noted that Tuesday's decision successfully capped 4 years of work.

He pointed out that because of mutual co-operation Nebraska was far more successful than other states in acquiring what it asked for in local air services.

"It's almost unbelievable," he said. "We are extremely pleased. It gives Nebraska one of the finest and most modern transportation networks in the nation."

2 Trips Daily

A minimum of 2 round trips daily were awarded on all Nebraska routes, Harr said he learned Wednesday in further communication with the CAB.

Omaha, which will now be served by 5 airlines, will be most pressed to improve its air facilities, Harr said.

Included in the newly approved routes was Ozark Airline service to Omaha, its only scheduled stop in Nebraska.

Omaha already has need for a new administration building, car parking areas, taxiway access and a new air parking apron, he noted.

Jet Service Talked

In addition, Omaha airport officials have been alerted to be ready for commercial jet service in 1960. It is understood that two gates have been requested to handle huge jet service.

Omaha airport improvement would likely take two years to complete, Harr said.

Lincoln will need new gate facilities and should eye construction of a new airport, he pointed out.

Every city involved in the routes, with the exception of Columbus, will have facilities ready to go immediately. Columbus is expected to complete its airport improvements by early spring.

New routes will increase the prestige of Omaha and Lincoln as transportation centers and probably increase Nebraska's priority for receiving federal airport construction funds should Congress continue appropriating such funds, Harr said.

27th & Sheridan Crash

For the second month in succession serious automobile accidents have occurred at 27th and Sheridan. The car shown here was driven by Milton Herman, 39, of 2600 Orchard when it collided with one driven by James F. Groth, 17, of 2418 Lake, police said. Herman was nearly thrown from the car by the impact suffering head injuries. (Star Staff Photo)

Two Drivers Hurt In Crash On Sheridan

Drivers of two cars that collided at 27th and Sheridan were hospitalized following the crash Wednesday evening.

Milton Herman, 39, of 2600 Orchard was reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth with facial bruises, a cut left ear and possible other injuries.

James F. Groth, 17, of 2418 Lake turned into Lincoln General and was admitted for observation. He is reported in satisfactory condition.

Police said the car driven by Herman was going south on 27th when it collided with the westbound car on Sheridan driven by Groth. The cars were traveling the same directions and collided at the same corner at which a car and bus collided Nov. 4 killing Mrs. Dena Deroe of Adams.

N.Y. School Fire Evacuates 900

New York (AP)—Fire broke out in the basement of a parochial school in Brooklyn Wednesday. It was extinguished quickly after the 900 students were marched to safety.

A 12-year old 7th-grader admitted later he set the fire "to be funny."

A minor fire also broke out at a public school in Brooklyn but was put out by a teacher using an extinguisher. Fire Department officials said it and two others that occurred Tuesday also might have been set deliberately.

The blaze at the Holy Rosary Elementary School was confined to a basement storeroom and caused only minor damage. Students, who were whisked outside into subfreezing temperatures so quickly that they had no time to don coats and hats, were permitted to return to their classes shortly afterward.

Alabama's Defiance Reprehensible--Ike

President Reassures West Berlin

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower termed it a sad, reprehensible thing Wednesday for Alabama officials to defy the federal government over voting registration records of Negroes.

"What I am pleading for, and what I would like to get help in pleading for throughout the country, is respect for law," Eisenhower told a news conference.

This was his first session with reporters in 5 weeks, since the day after the Nov. 4 election.

Eisenhower disclaimed that he has taken a sudden conservative turn in that period. He said he doesn't think there has been one single change in his basic political philosophy since he spelled it out in 1949, although he said he has had to accept some legislative compromises during what he called "the buffeting of politics" in Washington.

Wide Range

The session with newsmen ranged over the country and overseas.

Along the way, Eisenhower said in a sort of roundabout way that he isn't mad at former Preesident Harry S. Truman. He chided the Democrats over spending and taxes.

He discounted the idea that Russia has flown a nuclear-powered airplane, but declined to challenge reports that the Soviets have developed an 8,700-mile missile and a nuclear bomb with the punch of at least 5 million tons of TNT.

And he repeated an administration stand that the United States and her allies must stand firm against the latest Soviet menace to Berlin. They have "not only the right but the duty of preserving the paceful and free existence" of West Berlin and its people, the President said.

Eisenhower opened the news conference on that note. He closed it with word that he has no new policy on reunification of Germany to propose at next week's meeting in Paris of representatives of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

STOREROOM BECOMES JOY-ROOM

The big hearts of the managers, tenants and the landlord of the Bryan Apartments at 1235 K turned an old store room into a joy room for about 30 children from Cedars and Tabitha homes. Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson (center), managers of the apartment, spearheaded the drive. The storeroom was redecorated into a recreation room and the children invited for the party. (Star Photo)

Ike Has Recovered Nicely From Election Knockout

By Arthur Edson

Washington (AP)—The Champ has recovered. He can sit up and take political nourishment. He showed he also can dish it out since, without using the exact words, he called former President Truman a liar.

The Champ, of course, is President Eisenhower, who Wednesday held his first news conference in 5 weeks.

His last one had come on Nov. 5, before all the votes had been counted but not before it was obvious that from coast to coast the Republicans had taken a fearful beating."

"What Happened?"

Reporters hurried in to ask that awful question: "What happened?"

The story of that conference read pretty much like all after-the-fight dressing room stories.

"What did he hit you with?" the reporters ask.

"I don't know," says the baffled warrior.

Eisenhower came in briskly Wednesday and immediately launched into a 5-minute lecture on the necessity—indeed, the moral duty—for defending Berlin.

Then came the customary flow of questions.

It wasn't until Truman's name came up that Eisenhower showed he still was in fighting trim.

Truman Doesn't Care

On Monday, you may remember, Truman said Eisenhower had been mad at him since 1952, but "I don't give a damn."

There was nothing personal, Truman said. It was just that he had "raised hell" with Eisenhower 6 years ago "when he didn't knock (Sen. William) Jenner off the platform after he called Gen. Marshall a traitor."

"Is that good history?" Eisenhower was asked.

The president started out by saying everyone knows he has a little too much sense to get mad at anyone, but he looked at least a little mad as he said it.

He said he always has had the greatest respect for Gen. George Marshall, and if anyone says he ever stood still while any man, in his presence, reviled Gen. Marshall, it just is not true.

Mercy Air Lift Undertaken To Save Man's Life

Omaha (AP)—A Northern Natural Gas Co. pilot flew an emergency trip to Broken Bow to deliver a poison antidote to save a 35 year old man's life.

The sequence of events began when a Broken Bow doctor called the Omaha poison control center at Children's Memorial Hospital and requested the antidote.

The air lift came when Larry Shomaker, president of the Children's Hospital board of trustees, and a gas company executive, offered use of the company plane.

Pilot M. R. Kenwood made the trip in less than an hour and in less than two hours after he called the Broken Bow doctor had his antidote.

New North-South Route Tabbed 385

Washington (AP)—The American Assn. of State Highway Officials has given the number U.S. 385 to the new federalized north-south highway running from the Rio Grande to Canada.

The Nebraska section of the highway begins at the Colorado line southeast of Chappell and extends to Sidney then north on Neb. 19 to Bell Fourche, S. D

Growing A Little Tired

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Chalk up another clever move on the part of sly Mr. Khrushchev of the Soviet Union. The Russian Communist boss says and does things now and then which might lead one to believe he obtained his basic training on Madison Ave. At any rate, he has all the earmarks of a first-rate P.R. (public relations) man.

But don't take our word for it. Just look at the professional P.R. touch to the story brought back to the U.S. by Minnesota's Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Humphrey placed his own political star high in the heavens by virtue of his record-breaking eight solid hours with the Kremlin signal caller. (We hope Gov.-elect Ralph Brooks will forgive us for using that slangish sports term.) Humphrey can now join the ranks of those "first-handers" who have been face to face with the mighty Khrushchev.

The Eight-Hour Conference

This is part of what many people are growing tired of. The dire reports of Soviet strength and achievements and boasts are beginning to have a hollow ring in the ears of Americans — Americans who are pretty good at spotting a phony. Mr. K. might be advised that a little of his stuff goes a long way.

On top of everything else, the Reds now are reported by Humphrey to have a super-range inter-continental ballistic missile and a compact hydrogen bomb a few cuts in the deck better than ours. Their reportedly reported 8,694-mile (no more but maybe less) ICBM puts our exactly 6,325-miler in the small potatoes class.

The thing has gotten so ridiculous that the wire services are reporting on magazine reports of reports to reports supposedly (we can't bear to use "reportedly" again) made to the President and Senate by Humphrey. And what is responsible for all this hullabaloo? The crafty classification of this information as "secret."

Boy, nothing could have turned the trick as that has done. Just think of it, a secret about something super! Had Humphrey come home and merely put out the latest claptrap handed him by Khrushchev, it would have rolled by Americans like water off a duck's back.

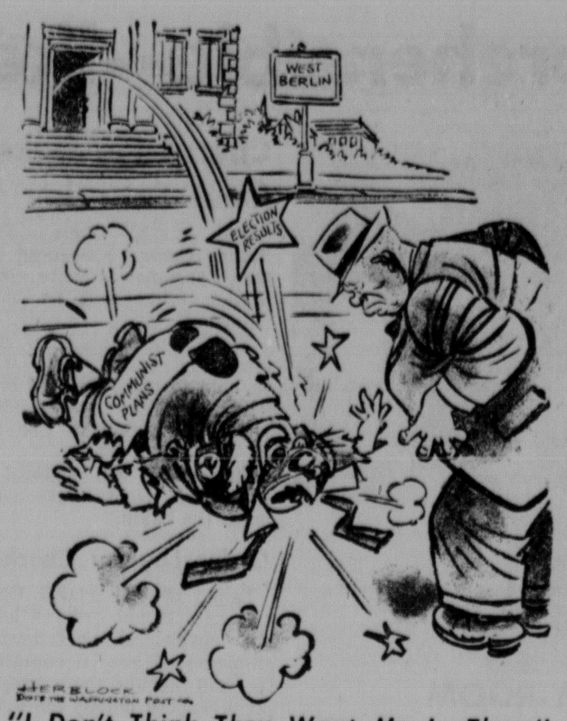
But Americans love adjectives and they like nothing more than having the inside track on a secret. Look at the soap, toothpaste and other product-packaging process. Things aren't just large or small, anymore. You may find a large and small size but that is only the beginning.

Naturally, there is the medium size, but you then have children and adult sizes and king, super, giant and extra large sizes. It's getting so bad that whatever the description is, it doesn't mean a thing. Even our eyes deceive us, as a big box is not always full.

Khrushchev may not have ever seen America but he sure has heard about it. He knew we would be a sucker for a secret and the report he gave Humphrey under those conditions is now spreading like wildfire and probably growing with each new accounting. You can almost see Mr. K. getting in close conversation with the senator and whispering the choice nuggets into his ear. He must be getting a lot of pats on the back today for his brilliant stroke of strategy.

The Allure Of Hush-Hush

This is the other part of what people are getting tired of — getting beat in salesmanship. We don't mean to discredit everything Humphrey has reported to the President or to say that the Kremlin fed him a pack of lies, but the tales look a little too overdone in some respects. It is very possible that what Khrushchev hasn't learned from Madison Ave. is when to stop and how far to go.



"I Don't Think They Want Me In There"

Brannan Plan Back

Rep. Carl Albert, D., Okla., has indicated that he will press for congressional consideration of a modified Brannan plan in the treatment of the nation's mounting wheat surplus.

He would combine Brannan plan features with a domestic parity plan.

His plan arouses interest because the wheat surplus has been named as the No. 1 farm problem. The wheat marketing act by which Congress has attempted to solve the nation's and the wheat growers' problems obviously is not working. This is evident in the forecast that by next July 1 the United States will have a 1.3 billion bushel carryover, the largest of record.

The Brannan plan has been around for some time. It is a copy of the wheat program used in Australia during World War II. In essence it would provide a high support for grain consumed in the domestic market. For any amount over that the producer would have to accept what the open market offers. Price supports to any one farm would be limited to approximately $4,000. Financing for the program would be derived from a processing tax.

Perhaps no other plan has been so bitterly opposed nor so quickly convicted without trial. But it is a plan of amazing survival power and modified copies of it have been proposed at one time or another by both parties. Although it protects the small acreage farmer by its limitation on support payments it makes all producers responsible for excess production thus freeing the government from the role of ultimate purchaser of everything grown which can't be otherwise marketed.

The arguments for the plan thus far are mostly negative. They stem from the failure of the old program to control surpluses and the failure of Secretary Benson either to handle surpluses or reduce the public cost. His all-out corn production program at open market based supports is expected to run the farm program bill up to between $7 and $8 billion which is beyond the limit imagined by Brannan plan objectors who viewed it as too fabulously costly.

Nebraska Takes To The Air

A fine opportunity has been given Nebraska with Civil Aeronautics Board approval of expanded airlines service in the state. It must be classed as an opportunity in that service could be drastically curtailed if it is not used. This places a heavy responsibility upon local communities involved to make every effort at promoting use of the new service.

State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr struck a key point when he talked of industrial incentive provided by the transportation expansion. Seven additional Nebraska cities will be placed on the state's air routes. These and cities already being served will be connected now with all major air terminals across the nation. The people of Nebraska and its business activity are thus only a matter of hours away from any point within the United States.

Harr also spoke of the remarkable fact that all towns to receive new service are fully equipped to take on this additional responsibility, with the exception of Columbus which is working to meet its needs and will soon have expanded airport facilities available. This is a further credit to the state aeronautics department which has been a driving force in bringing Nebraska facilities up to date.

The CAB action, for Lincoln, emphasizes anew the consideration that must be given here to the growing demand for good airlines facilities. For all concerned, the joint military and civilian operation at Municipal Airport is not an advantageous one and terminal facilities there are not what they should be. While Lincoln may be able to get by for a number of years yet, it is a problem that will have to be faced eventually.

There is no question of the growing prominence of air transportation for both pleasure and business. It is actually a vital part of many large industrial institutions and such industry cannot be secured without it. Nebraska is thus most fortunate in obtaining a service which ranks it third in the nation in this category.

Continued Oil Development

Petroleum Information, an agency which gathers just that, is authority for the report that 4,208 new oil wells were drilled in 10 western states the first eleven months of this year.

Nebraska is one of those 10 states. Its score was: 663 wells, 200 of them successful. Well yield was reported at 20 barrels an hour from the D sand, topped at 1,462 feet. Three new successful wildcat wells were brought in. This is all rather technical, but it gives a general picture of Nebraska oil.

To the average Nebraskan who is not an oil man this report has satisfying connotations. It tells the story of continuing development and of the steadily growing importance of a resource of significant value to the Nebraska economy—a force both for diversification and for economic growth. So long as each year brings a report of progress it follows that the state can look forward to growth and importance as an oil producing state.

It remains for the more technical learned plus actual explorations to determine the final stature of Nebraska in oil, but development thus far is in decided contrast to a formerly long held conviction that this region would never figure as an oil producing state. If there is a lesson in that it is never to be too sure of depressing news, never lose hope in nor expectation from the future.

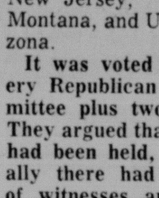
Chicago Fire A Lesson To Solons



WASHINGTON — When the 90 children burned to death in the Chicago school fire were buried last week, certain congressmen should have been looking over the shoulders of their sobbing fathers and mothers.

Those congressmen were the obstructionists who consistently voted against new school construction.

While the federal school construction bill did not directly aid parochial schools, the fact is that many of the latter schools are crowded because of overcrowded public schools.

The latest attempt to vote a relatively small amount of money for the school construction bill—compared with the huge highway bill—came last spring on a motion inside the House Education and Labor Committee to reconsider the original Eisenhower bill. The proposal was made by three Democrats—Thompson of New Jersey, Metcalf of Montana, and Udall of Arizona.

It was voted down by every Republican on the committee plus two Democrats. They argued that no hearings had been held, though actually there had been scores of witnesses and thousands of pages of testimony; also that Eisenhower had changed his mind and now didn't want the school bill—which was true.

☆ ☆ ☆

Also looking over the shoulders of mourners at the mass funeral in Chicago should have been members of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. They, almost more than any other group, lobbied against aid to education in the 1957 session of Congress when the school construction bill was first defeated on the House floor.

"Such proposals as HR 1," testified Thomas Ballantine of Louisville, chairman of the U.S. Chamber's committee on education, "seem to us the most dangerous of all federal aid proposals. Our investigation indicates that no national shortage of classrooms has been, or can be demonstrated to exist. The pessimistic outlook reported was more the result of wishful thinking on the part of local school administrations than any valid evidence of classroom conditions."

Premier De Gaulle singlehandedly blocked a proposal by Secretary of State Dulles that the big three allies send a tough note to Moscow.

Dulles wanted to put the Russians on notice in writing that the West would not be bluffed out of Berlin. But De Gaulle flatly refused to go along. It was senseless, he argued, to bluff the Russians as long as the allies are split among themselves about what to do if the Russians get tough in Berlin.

Dulles has now agreed to hold off any Big Three notes until they get together in Paris for a special conference.

DORIS FLEESON

Few Demo Women In High Office

WASHINGTON — Republicans forged ahead of Democrats in one respect November 4. They will have nine women in the new Congress, one senator and eight congresswomen. The majority party re-elected only eight of its nine congresswomen and in years has not had an opposite number to GOP Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Democratic women were the more disappointed in that they had several promising women candidates for the House who scored near misses while Republicans can boast of three newcomers. They are Mrs. Jessica Weiss of New York, Mrs. Sid Simpson of Illinois and Mrs. Catherine May of Washington.

Special circumstances in the different states and constituencies seemed to dictate the results. Representative Coya Knutson of Minnesota, whose unique distinction is that she was the only House Democrat to be defeated by a Republican, had a marital problem.

What makes the failure of the women to improve their numbers in Congress more striking is the fact that they did better than ever in statewide and local contests. There are many more women in state legislatures; women are secretaries of state, state treasurers, state auditors and Alabama elected a woman to be associate justice of its court of appeals.

The campaign also showed more and more women taking over active direction of campaign organization rather than playing second fiddle to men. Some important candidates had women campaign managers; others say frankly that their ablest assistants were women.

Democrats deny that their backward step with respect to women in Congress means that women voters are turning to the conservative party. Mrs. Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities for the Democratic National Committee since 1953, says the problem is that women cannot easily pick up and leave their families to come to Washington.

In common with most experienced politicians, she believes anyway that women do not vote as women but as people.

It developed also in the Democratic parleys last week end that the party is looking to the resurgent West to produce their competition for Senator Smith. Well-known to Washington as the first treasurer of the United States, she is Georgia Neese Gray, Kansas National Committeewoman.

A sparkling brunette, Mrs. Gray has an unusual background. She is a former actress who is president of the bank in her home town of Richland, near Topeka, and a successful businesswoman.

The seat she has her eye on is currently occupied by Senator Andrew Schoeppel of Wichita, a right-wing Republican and present chairman of the GOP Senate Campaign Committee.

Where Mrs. Gray stands within her own party appeared when she offered the resolution giving national committee endorsement to Chairman Paul Butler in language strongly praising his civil rights stand.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

The Big American Heart

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

Seldom are college fraternities caught in humanitarian acts. But members of Zeta Beta Tau at the University of Nebraska have ready evidence that at one time in the fraternity's history it was connected with at least a bit of quasi humanitarianism.

Approximately two years ago the fraternity adopted a waif, a helpless, friendless puppy.

The offspring of a German shepherd brought to Lincoln by an Air Force family, Heidi was turned out at an early age and temporarily found refuge in a pet shop.

Discovered there by a Lincoln coed, the tiny animal was taken to what was to be her first "real home," only to be turned out again by a dissenting matron.

Fortunately for the little creature, a member of Zeta Beta Tau was acquainted with the circumstances before Heidi was again put up for public adoption. Realizing the eventual worth of the canine, the collegian took Heidi to live at his house.

She was still a helpless four-week-old ball of puppy fur when the ZBT's took her in.

☆ ☆ ☆

As Heidi grew, speculation increased to the effect that Heidi might be at least one-half American, after all.

She stands about two-thirds as high as an ordinary German shepherd and has short, fairly coarse hair like most German shepherds and the long muzzle and ears of a German shepherd.

But Heidi has a creamy, near-white color that sets her apart from the run-of-the-mill German shepherd. The color varies little over her body except for her ears which are nearly brown.

HEIDI AND ARNOLD BAN
. . . role of receptionist a busy one . . .

In the house Heidi is suspicious of strangers but soon becomes friendly to newcomers. Outside she is cordial to the public from the start. She has a great many friends and well-wishers among the student body at the university.

Her only peer in this respect is her good friend, Duchess, the St. Bernard who is the mascot of Phi Kappa Psi.

☆ ☆ ☆

For those she recognizes, Heidi has a ready paw to extend in friendship at all times. She lives on the first floor of the house, just a few steps from the door. Greeting everyone who comes in becomes quite a chore during the lunch hour and dinner hours.

In fact, Heidi is on the run so much, she often has trouble settling down to eat. Each vacation the main concern of fraternity members is building Heidi back to health. She has already been offered a rest haven for the Christmas vacation.

Heidi learned to obey commands quickly. She will sit, lie and move when told as do a good many dogs, but she has also learned to obey commands at traffic signals when she walks with people.

It is such alertness and willingness to meet people that has made Heidi admired and accepted by not only the fraternity members but many others as well.

Thus a lonely daughter of a European immigrant found her place in America with the help of admiring collegians.

Goldwater Election

Williford, Arkansas

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Sen. Curtis' demanding an investigation into the abuse of Sen. Goldwater in the last election is the year's greatest irony.

Any investigation should be to determine why this thoroughly disliked politician won, and here are some reasons. He had full-page ads every day in The Arizona Republican, with smears against labor and other distortions. In any other state, he would have lost.

He continually smeared Reuther who is absolutely clean and a lot smarter than Goldwater. He had unlimited money behind him from Arizona and out of the state.

Like Curtis, Mundt, and others of his stripe, he has spent all his time trying to kill organized labor, and white-washing the sins of Big Business. These are the type who always vote for monopoly versus the people, as they did in the gas gag bill.

Sen. Curtis had better be preparing for his own wake which will happen in his next election. The people are finally awake and are tired of being pushed around, lied to and sold out.

A Comparison

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to express my appreciation for the news coverage given to the joint meeting of the Reserve Officers Association and the Association of the United States Army on December 7, 1958, at which meeting Major General Derrill M. Daniel was the guest of honor.

The Russian Army has 175 ground divisions in the field and 125 reserve divisions which can be mobilized and ready for action in 30 days. These 300 divisions are completely equipped with post World War II designed and developed conventional weapons and equipment as well as missiles and so-called exotic weapons. They are now in the process of reissuing these divisions with more recently designed and more modern conventional weapons and equipment.

The United States Army has only 16 divisions and only 30 per cent of the arms and equipment issued to these are modern. The balance of their equipment needs is either obsolete or non-existent.

The U.S. Army is requesting funds to produce and issue newly designed weapons and equipment for our 16 divisions. The purpose is to place these 16 divisions of the U.S. Army on an equal footing with the Russian Army insofar as modern tools of war are concerned.

We cannot, of course, hope to equal the Russian Army in strength of numbers, but it seems to me our 16 divisions should be at least as well equipped as the best 16 divisions of the Russian Army.

JACK D. ANDERSON
Lt. Col. Inf. USAR President, Pershing Chapter Assoc. of the U.S. Army.

Tantrums

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We occasionally expect our children to act like children, since that is their age and mental bracket. We don't approve of their tantrums, but still we expect them to act that way sometimes.

However, when grown-ups act the very same way, there is no excuse for it. New Yorkers are going without their newspapers now because a form of tantrum called a strike is in progress. I think strikes in our society today ought to be officially ruled as unconstitutional. As a bargaining agent they have become little better than a club held over the head to secure anything by way of more money that the strikers decide on. With as many people looking for jobs as there are, if someone doesn't want to work, he should move on and let someone else who is willing to do the job take over.

Grown-ups can't be spanked physically. Perhaps we could do it legally.

WILLING TO WORK

Wrong-Way Voting

Lincoln Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Republican high command, desperate for a way out of their current predicament, have raised a great moral issue. There is corruption in our election procedures —votes are being stolen. Not by the Democrats. Oh no! Labor is the culprit. Now, if such is the case, so they say, it is high time we all get interested and stamp out this awful thing—in a bipartisan movement.

Strange, isn't it, that this important discovery should come only as a result of a Republican loss. The implication is that the Democrats could win only by stealing the election. During the last 18 years of continuous domination by the Republicans in the Statehouse, has any suspicion ever been directed at either the processes or the thousands of citizens who conduct our elections? What a terrific moral significance is attached to 1,555 votes, when they are cast "the wrong way."

No Sympathy

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The letters from outstate concerning the fate of Caril Fugate gripe me. If they had had some loved one murdered, they wouldn't feel so lenient. Why should she be turned loose in society when she's as guilty as Starkweather? I think she is heartless and cold-blooded and shouldn't expect any sympathy. She should just be thankful she didn't get the chair.

MRS. RAY ROGERS

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"Did you see that, Bosler? I never thought I could hit him without my glasses."

Dirksen Changes

It will take time to determine how much change the last landslide election will have on the administration and the Congress, but Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois seems to have caught the spirit of reform in a big way. As recently as 1957, Dirksen was a leading spirit among the Republican forces for conservatism and one of the most implacable foes of any change in the Senate's filibuster rule. But after looking over the recent election returns he has announced himself in favor of the rule's modification. Some may be surprised by his quick change but no one can accuse him of inflexibility.

Dein Death Ups Highway Toll

The death of Bernard Dein, 48, of Hebron, injured in a Nov. 10 auto accident near Hebron, has been added to Nebraska's 1958 traffic death list:

Dein died Dec. 3 at a Fairbury Hospital of injuries suffered in the mishap, according to a report of Robert Pease, director of the State Accident Records Bureau.

A car driven by Dein collided at a county road intersection 3 miles northeast of Hebron with another driven by Louis Northrup, 69, Belvidere. Northrup was injured only slightly.

The delayed death report boosted the year's road fatality total to 322, compared with 281 at this time a year ago.

Quake Recorded

Berkeley, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California Seismograph Station recorded a fairly strong earthquake off the west coast of Mexico Wednesday.

The quake was centered 1,50 miles from Berkeley and had a Richter magnitude of 5¾. It lasted 45 minutes.

30 Days Given For Contributing

Irvin E. Couch of 310 No. 17th was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail Wednesday by Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer on a contributing to the delinquency of a minor charge.

Couch, 21, changed an earlier innocent plea to nolo contendere (no contest) and was found guilty by Judge Spencer.

Couch, who was charged in connection with a May 21 incident involving a 14-year-old girl, had appealed a County Court conviction. He had been fined $200 on the charge in the lower court.

Sugar Beet Acreage Boost Urged

Kearney, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis urged an increase in the acreage allotment for domestic sugar producers when the sugar act is again extended.

In a talk before the Central Nebraska Sugar Beet Growers Assn., Curtis said the sugar act has been much more successful and satisfactory than our general farm plan.

"It has always been my position that the sugar act was too generous with our off-shore producers," Curtis said. "I favor an increase in sugar beet acreage for the domestic growers. I have been an active participant in all sugar legislation trying to reach this objective. With so many other agricultural commodities in surplus, it seems to me that the American farmer should be permitted to raise a greater portion of our sugar needs."

Pamphlet Urging Gls Not To Wed Foreigners Removed

Tokyo (UPI)—A controversial pamphlet urging Americans not to marry foreigners was ordered removed Wednesday from the shelves of U.S. military chapels in Japan.

U.S. authorities acted quickly to withdraw the tracts, titled "If I Marry a Foreigner," which threatened to arouse bad feeling in this country where some 30,000 Americans have married Japanese girls since the war.

The pamphlet warned that foreign mates might be followers of a "heathen" religion and be morally, socially and culturally beneath the Americans who married them.

"Will you," it asked American readers, "be able to overcome any nausea created by a difference in ideals, in dress, in conduct, food, clothing and other things that are so definitely a part of us?"

More than 100 of the pamphlets, written by a chaplain named George W. Thompson who is not in Japan now, were on the racks earlier Wednesday at the Tokyo chapel center in the heart of the capital.

Red Envoy Silent As Absent Pasternak Honored In Stockholm

Stockholm, Sweden (UPI)—The Swedish Academy paid tribute to absent prize-winning author Boris Pasternak during its 1958 Nobel Prize presentations, while the Soviet Ambassador listened in stony-faced silence.

Pasternak, condemned by the Kremlin for his anti-Communist novel "Doctor Zhivago," was the only prize winner who did not appear to receive an award.

Anders Oesterling, permanent secretary of the academy, announced that Pasternak had been awarded the literature prize for his literary accomplishments and would retain the honor even though he rejected the prize. Oesterling said the academy regretted that the award could not be handed to the winner.

Soviet Ambassador to Sweden Feodor Gousev sat unmoved in the audience as Oesterling praised his countryman.

Highlight

The speech about Pasternak was the highlight of the ceremony which included presentation of Nobel Prizes for physics, chemistry and medicine.

Nobel Foundation officials handed out $41,250 cash awards, medals, scrolls and accolades to the winners in the 3 categories — including 3 Americans—but the proceedings were overshadowed by the absence of Pasternak, who was forced to reject the prize and stay home under pressure from the Soviet Communist hierarchy.

There were no demonstrations, but it was clear from the solemn silence which greeted the mention of his name that his plight was uppermost in the minds of those present.

Physics Prize

While Pasternak was forced to remain in Russia, 3 of his Soviet compatriots were here to receive the physics prize for their development of the Cherenkov effect, a discovery which led to invention of a new radiation counter used in Russia's Sputnik III. The 3 scientists were Pavel Cherenkov, Ilya Frank and Igor Tamm.

Three Americans shared the prize for medicine for their work in genetics. George Beadle, of Pasadena, Calif., and Edward L. Tatum, of New York City, won half the prize for discovering that "genes act by regulating definite chemical effects." Joshua Lederberg, of Madison, Wis., got the other half for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination.

Dr. Frederick Sanger, of Britain, received the laurels for chemistry.

The fifth Nobel Award—the Peace Prize—was presented in Oslo, Norway at about the same time the awards were made here. It went to Rev. George Pire, a humble Belgian monk of the Dominican Order.

Earl J. Hutchinson Estate About $81,000

The approximate value of the estate of the late Earl J. Hutchinson of 1533 So. 24th, who died Nov. 22, was listed as $81,000 on the petition for probate of his will, which was filed in Lancaster County Court.

Mr. Hutchinson, 70, left the bulk of his estate to a sister, Perna Mae Lundt of Blair, and brother, Guy F. Hutchinson of South Bend, Ind.

Charges Seen Today Against 2 In Breakins

Breaking and entering charges are expected to be filed Thursday against two Lincoln youths who reportedly have admitted 4 recent Lincoln-area breakins to police.

The two, brothers ages 18 and 20, have admitted recent breakins at the Sinclair Service Station at 6242 Havelock, D-X Service Station at 2009 West O, Clem's Drive-In at 640 W. Van Dorn and Tate's Service Station 8 miles south of Lincoln on U.S. 77, police said.

A third youth, 21 years of age, has been turned over to Wahoo authorities in connection with the attempted breakin of a service station there, police added.

Plant Expansion Spending In First Quarter Of 1959 Will Be Modest

Washington (UPI) — Business spending for new factories and equipment will increase slightly in the first quarter of 1959, but will still be sharply below the 1957 levels, the government reported.

It also revised earlier estimates of 1958 total spending downward. Business spending is now expected to total $30,527,000,000 in 1958, or 17% below the historic high of 1957.

First-quarter 1959 spending for new plants, machines, mills and other production equipment was anticipated to rise slightly to an annual rate of $30,510,000,000, up about 58 million dollars from the expected fourth-quarter rate.

Economists keep a close watch on plant and equipment spending trends because these outlays are considered "high-powered dollars," money that might not otherwise enter the spending stream.

The sharp break from the 1957 pace figured heavily as a cause of the recession and the rise in unemployment earlier in the year.

While the outlook from January to March, 1959, did not suggest capital spending would give the economy much added lift, it did lend weight to forecasts of price stability for the coming months.

The new report was issued jointly by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The agencies survey business spending plans on a sample basis.

Their report, noting the downward revision of earlier plant and equipment spending projections, commented that underfulfillment of initial spending plans has characterized the investment picture all year. But the agencies said they have improved statistical techniques, which may help compensate for this.

The report said that the expected January-March, 1959, rate, if realized, would be nearly a billion dollars above the recession low of last summer, but some 7 billion dollars below the 1957 peak.

It also showed that railroads made the biggest slash, on a percentage basis, in 1958 expansion spending. They cut back 46% from 1957 outlays, compared to 31% for durable goods makers and 26% for mining firms.

Public utilities, construction and commercial firms cut back the least.

Con Admits '54 Death In Phenix City

Montgomery, Ala (AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom's office said Wednesday a Virginia convict has signed a statement saying he killed Alabama's Atty. Gen.-elect Albert Patterson in 1954.

The governor said "there appears to be a degree of truthfulness" in the statement given by a white prisoner, Calvin W. Pruitt, 28, and that he asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson to join in an investigation.

The elder Patterson, father of the present attorney general, was shot to death outside his law office in Phenix City the night of June 18, 1954, after winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a pledge to clean up vice in Phenix City.

The killing touched off a sweeping vice purge and sent John Patterson into the Attorney General's office in his father's place. The younger Patterson was elected governor this year and takes office in January.

Indicted

Three former Phenix City public officials were indicted for the Patterson murder, but only former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller was convicted. He is serving a life term for the slaying.

Former solicitor Arch Ferrell was acquitted of the murder and a third defendant, ex-Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, has never gone to trial. Garrett spent more than a year in a Texas hospital under treatment for a mental disturbance after the killing.

Pruitt was identified by Virginia prison authorities as a native of Alabama who is serving a life sentence, another for 20 years and still another for 3 years. He was identified as the husband of Mrs. Velva Pruitt of Haleyville, Ala. The nature of the charges for which he is serving time in Virginia wasn't disclosed.

Contempt Charge Is Asked Against GoldfineAndAide

Boston (AP) — A petition was filed in Federal Court Wednesday asking that Bernard Goldfine, Boston industrialist, and his secretary, Mildred Paperman, be cited for criminal and civil contempt of court.

U.S. Atty. Anthony Julian asked the contempt citation for the alleged willful failure of Goldfine and his secretary to obey an order of Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. to produce books and records of 5 Goldfine companies.

Judge Wyzanski ordered that Goldfine and Miss Paperman appear before him next Tuesday at 10 a.m. to show cause why they should not be adjudged in contempt.

Goldfine was indicted Tuesday in Washington on 18 counts of contempt of Congress.

Five days ago Judge Wyzanski ordered Goldfine and his secretary to turn over the books and records of 5 of his companies for tax investigation—or face civil and criminal contempt citations. The court was told that Goldfine and Miss Paperman, after holding the records for 60 days to complete income tax returns, refused to return them to the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division.

Skating Safe On 2 Lincoln Ponds

Ice skating was reported safe at two of the Lincoln Park department's ponds Wednesday.

Ice conditions at Rudge Park, 14th and Harrison and at Sawyer-Snell Park, north of Sherman Field, were "good" according to James Ager, park superintendent.

He termed Oak Lake "still not safe for use."

Chinese Revolt Is Said Crushed By Red Troops

Hong Kong (UPI) — Reports reaching here from Portuguese Macao said that residents of the Chinese Communist offshore island of Lappa rose in a revolt that was crushed by Red troops in bloody reprisals.

A press dispatch from Macao reported that Chinese Red troops opened fire to put down the uprising that broke out in the Wancahi community on Lappa Island, a key port and commercial area just west of Macao.

It reported that Communist troops were rushed over a causeway to the island in the South China Sea and crushed the uprising after a two-hour battle.

The dispatch said casualties were heavy. It said Macao residents crowding the waterfront of that western enclave could see public executions taking place on Lappa Island after the rebellion.

There was no immediate official confirmation of the report.

Collective

Recent reports, however, have told of bitter opposition of Peiping chairman Mao Tsetung's campaign to collectivize Chinese into beehive-like "communes."

Under the plan, workers and peasants were being herded into communes which turn entire cities into exaggerated "collective farms" far beyond the original Soviet pattern. Families are separated with all men and women organized into para-military units charged with pushing the completion of Red China's agricultural and industrial development.

The report said the situation on Lappa appeared back to normal —except that 3 Communist gunboats were stationed on Pearl River.

It said, Macao residents had observed strong contingents of Red troops rushing across the nearly-completed causeway linking Lappa with the south China mainland about 45 miles west of Hong Kong.

In the darkness of the early morning, it said little could be seen on the island "but gunfire could be heard and cries of desperation carried as far as the local waterfront."

Four Fishermen And Wives Found Safe On Superior

Grand Marais, Minn. (AP) — Four Lake Superior commercial fishermen and their wives, whose delay in reaching the Minnesota mainland from Isle Royale, touched off a Coast Guard search, arrived safely at Grand Portage late Wednesday.

The 48-foot Jeffries, a fishing tug owned by Milford Johnson Sr., Two Harbors, Minn., tied up to spend the night at Grand Portage about 45 miles northeast of Grand Marais.

Aboard were Johnson and his wife and 3 other fishermen couples, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holte, Grand Marais, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Edison, Two Harbors, and Frank Johnson, son of Milford, and his wife. They planned to continue their journey to Grand Marais and Two Harbors Thursday.

The Coast Guard cutter Woodrush, in the Isle Royale area, had been asked to look in on the fishermen because of their long stay on the Michigan island. Heavy fog and stinging zero cold gripped the area.

Spenders Warned By Demo

Washington (AP) — Big spending advocates in the government drew a warning from the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee Wednesday to be more careful with the taxpayers' dollars.

Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) promised to do "everything in my power" to balance the federal budget and eliminate unnecessary spending.

"We've got to stop spending for things we can do without, no matter how worthy they seem," Cannon said in a telephone interview from his home in Elsberry, Mo.

As head of the 50-member Appropriations Committee through which all government financing bills must flow, Cannon probably has more control over the federal purse strings than any other individual in Congress.

"They can't spend what we don't appropriate," he said, "and we are not going to appropriate a penny more than they need, if I have my way."

Cannon was talking about big spenders in and out of Congress.

Rep. Cannon sounded appalled at reports that the next Eisenhower budget will call for spending around 78 or 80 billion dollars.

"That's ridiculous," he said. "We certainly are going to cut any budget that big."

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

"Deposit as little as $5 a week for a Merry Christmas."

That is the sign I read over the teller's window this merry morning.

We are down at the village jug this day to stiff the jolly banker.

As usual, the Yuletide finds me slightly on the shorts. Have you noticed that county taxes and life insurance fall due at this time? Also these are the mornings the glasses drop out of your pocket. And you back out of the garage squarely on top of them. Crunch.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, we had a lovely summer. Chewing tobacco and going hippety-hoppity in the barley fields.

Now we are down seeking a loan from the ants.

If I had deposited as little as $5, I would have a Christmas fund.

I did not do this. I was too busy paying back the last Christmas loan. However, my banker has a heart of gold and deposits to match.

"A merry Christmas to you, Banker. Just hand me the pen and show me the dotted line."

My banker sighs gloomily and hands me the form. Bankers do not like to see money going out of their warm bank. They like to see it coming in. This is a commendable attitude. But we cannot have everything our way.

☆ ☆ ☆

I promise I will not use the money extravagantly. And I will pay it back, month by month. On the first of each month.

It is an honest transaction.

Why, in Los Angeles, a Yule-happy gent has been collecting his Christmas fund in a most ingenious way.

He walks into a bank and hands them six rolls of quarters and nine rolls of half dollars. He collects $240.

When the banker unwraps the rolls, he finds them stuffed with washers.

That is very dishonest. It is like robbing the bank.

Oddly enough, I will bet you the man who passes the rolls does not consider it dishonest at all. Nearly all confidence artists consider they are helping the economy along.

☆ ☆ ☆

A number of Christmases ago, a man named Walter gave me an electric razor.

"I have a good job selling these since I got out of jail," he said. "From now on I am going straight."

He explained the one he gave me was a sample. If anybody wanted more—"any friends of yours" was the way he put it—he would give them up at half price.

He sold several dozen to friends in the police department. He had met a number of policemen during his career.

Then he began selling radios. Half price. Finally somebody noticed the radios had the numbers filed off. Friends on the police force picked Walter up. The razors and the radios were hot.

I went down to see him in the city's holding ground.

"Here it is Christmas," he said bitterly. "And Santa Claus is in jail."

I think my banker should be happy I am an honest borrower. Not somebody walking in with a Michigan roll of quarters.

"Shall I deposit it to your account?"

"No, Banker. I will take it in cash if you please."

The banker is not happy about this. It is bad enough to make the loan. Now here I want to take the money outside. In the cold, Christmas air. He is afraid it may catch cold.

"You should start a Christmas fund. Deposit ——."

"—as little as $5 a week. That is what I intend to do, Banker. The very first of the year."

The banker watches me through his plate glass window. Walking down the street with the money going jingle-bells in my pocket. He hopes I will mend my ways. And so do I. Jingle bells.

Ship Rediscovered

Alexandria Bay, N. Y. (UPI)—Two Syracuse, N. Y., skin divers have found the ship "Keystorm" which sank about 45 years ago in the Thousand Islands section of the St. Lawrence River. Robert G. Evans Jr. and Bernard A. Forth rediscovered the ship about 100 yards from where charts indicated she had gone down. They said the bow is in 45 feet of water while the stern slants down to an estimated depth of 140 feet.

Capote Likes Novels

New York (AP) — Truman Capote feels that he would rather write novels than plays. Asked whether he might adapt his new book, "Breakfast at Tiffany's," for Broadway where he has been represented previously by "The Grass Harp" and "House of Flowers," Capote said "I don't like cooperative effort. I prefer a solo venture, for which I would get all the credit or blame.".

Shapiro To Lecture For Foundation

Cincinnati — Prof Karl Shapiro of the University of Nebraska's English department and one of America's foremost poets will be the 1959 Elliston Poetry Foundation lecturer at the University of Cincinnati, it was announced here.

Shapiro

Professor Shapiro, 9th guest lecturer in the poetry lectureship series, will be on the campus approximately two months starting in mid-February. He will take a leave of absence from the University of Nebraska from Feb. 15 to April 10.

A Pulitizer prize winning poet, Shapiro will conduct a seminar on poetry and present a series of 9 public lectures on modern poetry and criticism.

The Elliston Foundation was established by the bequest of the late Miss George Elliston, Cincinnati newspaperwoman and poet. Previous poets who have been Elliston lecturers were: Robert Frost, Robert P. Tristram Coffin, John Berryman, Stephen Spender, Robert Lowell, Peter Viereck, John Betjeman and Randall Jarrell.

WEATHER AHEAD

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average 4 to 8 degrees below the seasonal normal in the east to near normal west. Warming trend early in the period, colder about Saturday and warmer again Sunday or Monday. Normal afternoon highs range from 34 to near 40; normal morning lows from 15 to 19. Occasional light snows, mostly in the west. Less than ¼ inch of moisture is expected.

Communist Pressure

Chicago (AP) — Back from a survey of Protestant church life behind the iron curtain, Dr. T. Otto Nall, editor of the Methodist church's "New Christian Advocate," reports the churches there are carrying on "timidly, tentatively, but tenaciously." He said there is less pressure on the churches in Russia than in Red-ruled East Germany.

Child Killed, 10 Hurt As School Bus, Truck Hit

Emery, S. D. (AP)—A 9-year-old girl was killed and 10 of 28 other children passengers were injured in the collision of their school bus with a truck.

Sandra Kayser, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe N. Kayser of Alexandria, S.D., was killed when a bus and truck collided at a county road intersection.

Ten children were hospitalized at Mitchell. Doctors said their condition ranged from fair to good. Most of the youngsters suffered cuts and bruises.

The school bus, driven by John Fauth of Emery, overturned after the impact. The Kayser girl was seated near the rear. Authorities theorize she must have been thrown out the rear exit or emergency door when the bus rolled.

The unloaded truck was driven by Gerrit Koster of Edgerton, Minn.

$40,559 Shortage In Credit Union Funds Uncovered

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — A shortage of $40,559 on the books of the $200,000 teachers Credit Union here was announced Wednesday in the wake of a general membership meeting of the organization.

Mrs. Esther Groth, TCU president, said the shortage was in the accounts of J. B. Kuhler, former teacher and treasurer of the credit union.

Through the Credit Union's bond and reserves, and with financial assistance from members of the state Credit Union league, members will not suffer any loss, Mrs. Groth said.

Kuhler on Sept. 30 was given a 3-year suspended sentence after he pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony. The charge was filed in connection with a recent morals case in Sioux City.

Kuhler resigned his high school teaching position and the Credit Union treasurer's post at the time.

A statement and judgment, signed by Kuhler, was filed in District Court. In the statement, Kuhler admitted "wrongfully appropriating funds while an officer of the Credit Union."

The Credit Union was established in 1933. He had been treasurer since its organization. Kuhler is married.

U.S., Britain Say Only Inspection Can Guarantee Ban On Tests

. . . Seek To Allay Red Fears

Geneva (AP)—U.S. and British diplomats told the Russians that only an unfettered inspection system can guarantee observance of a world ban on nuclear weapons tests.

They sought to allay professed Soviet fears that such a control arrangement would develop into a vast anti-Communist espionage network.

Explanations of the western position at the 3-power nuclear conference failed to convince Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin. The shock-haired Russian argued that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union must have a firm grip on the control organization and its inspection work.

Atfer meeting two hours and 40 minutes, members of the 3 delegations trooped off to a cocktail party given by the Russian delegation in a hotel.

Not Deadlocked

None of the participants in the conference seemed downhearted. Sources from both sides said the conference is far from deadlocked and still has a good chance for ultimate success.

With two articles of the proposed draft treaty already approved, British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore introduced a proposed Article 3.

This named the component parts of a control organization, but did not go into such controversial matters as the system's powers and specific functions.

In the debate which followed, the rival eastern and western concepts on controls were detailed by Ormsby-Gore, U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and Tsarapkin.

Free To Probe

The United States and Britain maintained the proposed 180 observation posts scattered around the globe and the mobile inspection teams should be free to investigate and make objective reports on suspicious tremors without political haggling.

Tsarapkin suggested a more circumscribed role for the mobile teams. He has already accepted in general terms the idea of the 180 observation posts. He warned that the Soviet Union would refuse to accept a voting procedure which always left the Russians in the minority.

The big 3 powers should agree, he said, before international inspectors were sent in to check on dubious signs.

Bridges Wed To Nisei In Reno Rites

Reno, Nev. (UPI) — Harry Bridges, colorful and controversial West Coast labor leader, won another battle Wednesday when he married a pretty Nisei secretary here despite Nevada laws against interracial marriages

The marriage license was issued by the County Clerk after a court hearing at which Elko District Judge Taylor H. Wines made a writ of mandate permanent. He ordered the license issued.

Bridges and Miss Noriko (Nikki) Sawada, 35, then went to the County Clerk's Office and were given the license. They were married 15 minutes later by Justice of the Peace William R Beemer.

Referring to the clerk's refusal to issue the license Tuesday and the subsequent court proceeding, Bridges cracked when he paid the $5 fee:

"Is that the regular price or does it include the extras?"

After getting the license the couple walked across Virginia Street to Beemer's office and were married.

Bridges, 58-year-old president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, was turned down when he applied for a license to marry Miss Sawada under an 1864 statute prohibiting marriages between Caucasians and Orientals.

Drills Free Dog Trapped In Ditch

A 4-year-old springer spaniel was released by Lincoln Humane Society workers from a narrow construction ditch Wednesday.

The dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoppes of 1041 So. 30, apparently spent a cold night trapped in the ditch near the home of its owners before being found.

Rescue workers used pneumatic drills to free the animal from the earth which held it trapped. The spaniel was reported "doing fine" at a local pet hospital.

Rose Lucke To Head WRC Unit

Rose Lucke has been elected president of Belknap Women's Relief Corps 192.

Other new officers are Luella Lehigh, senior vice president; Bessie Williss, junior vice president; Jeannie Morgan, treasurer; Floda Yates, chaplain; Hattie Hughes, conducter; and Cora Kuehne, guardian.

Delegates elected to the department convention are Bessie Williss, Elsie Otto, and Iva Fifer. Alternate delegates are Irma McCauley, Cora Kuehne, and Dora Shriner.

A work committee was also appointed for the WRC centennial celebration of the Civil War (1961-65). Members are Ruth Cary, Elsie Otto, Ruby Howard, Iva Fifer, Cora Kuehne, Georgie Doane, and Dora Shriner.

Kennel Club Votes $100 To Kellogg Foundation Fund

Members of the Cornhusker Kennel Club voted to donate $100 to the Kellogg Foundation at a brief business meeting prior to the club's annual Christmas party.

Included in the program was the presentation of awards.

Plaques were awarded to the following persons whose dogs acquired their championships during the year: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher, Dr. Earl H. Brown, M. E. Hollister, Mrs. Merle Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Davenport, who finished two dogs; and Mrs. Ralph Myers, who finished two dogs.

Awarded plaques for their dog's earning an obedience title during the year were: Ann Sowles, Garey Young, Erich H. Hartmann, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ellenwood, Mara Garbars and Marillyn J. Caldwell.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in The Sunday Journal and Star.

Reuther Disagrees With Meany On Third Party View

Washington (AP) — Walter Reuther said organized labor in America is committed to work within the existing two-party system rather than form its own political party.

Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and president of the Auto Workers Union, commented at a news conference on a suggestion made in New York by AFL-CIO President George Meany that labor may form its own party.

Meany said "labor is going to be as political as it has to be to win its objectives" and if that can't be done within the two-party system labor will have to form its own party.

"I think Mr. Meany was misunderstood," Reuther said. "The American labor movement is committed to work within the framework of the two-party system.

"I think a labor party 's wrong in terms of America's social structure. It only would further fragmentize our society. What we need is less division and more unity."

Reuther Laughs

When someone suggested that what America needs is not a third political party but a second, Reuther laughed. He said he thought a lot of Republicans were thinking seriously about that after the big Democratic victory in November.

Reuther also was critical of recent suggestions by Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz) that labor and management get together to try to limit political activity on the part of both.

"What Goldwater really means is that he'd like to demobilize the American labor movement politically while letting big business operate politically as usual," Reuther said.

"The only thing that has happened in politics in this country is that labor is beginning to do what business has always done."

Hutcheson

Reuther was asked what he thought the AFL-CIO Executive Council may do at its February meeting in Puerto Rico in the case of President Maurice Hutcheson of the Carpenters Union. Hutcheson along with Reuther is a council member.

Hutcheson has been cited for contempt of Congress for refusing to answer Senate Rackets Committee questions and is under indictment in Indiana highway scandals. The Carpenters Union recently rejected the AFL-CIO ethical practices codes and authorized Hutcheson to pull the 850,000-member union out of the AFL-CIO.

"I do not think the AFL-CIO Executive Council is going to be intimidated," Reuther said. "Members of all AFL-CIO unions should all live up to the federation's codes and rules. I think the council's action (in this matter) will clearly demonstrate it is not going to be intimidated."

U.S. FORCES IN FORMOSA REDUCED

. . . As Threat Lessens

Taipei (AP) — U.S. air and naval forces in the Formosa area are being reduced as the Communist threat to the Chinese Nationalist off-shore island lessens.

The U.S. command emphasized Wednesday, however, it is keeping a watchful eye on the situation and the withdrawn planes and ships will remain within range for a swift recall.

The strength of U.S. forces in the Formosa area is a military secret. But it is no secret that the U.S. 7th Fleet, equipped with nuclear weapons, is the bulwalk of the striking force.

Fire Fighters Are Bothered By Fascinated Dog

New York (AP) — Dogs, like people, apparently like to watch fires—especially when fellow dogs are involved. This was brought out—along with the dogs—when fire damaged an animal hospital and hotel for pets.

About 40 dogs and cats were in the two-story Manhattan building when the blaze broke out in ceiling wiring on the first floor, and spread through the upper floor.

Amid the turmoil of evacuating the yapping animals for removal to a shelter of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals a stray mongrel insisted on getting a close look at the proceedings.

Several times, the brown-and-black spectator was chased from the scene, but returned repeatedly to clamber over fire hoses and stare at the evacuees. ASPCA agents finally carted him off to the shelter, too.

None of the dogs was hurt.

CB&Q Buying 37 Diesels, 1,500 Boxcars

Burlington Railroad officials announced Wednesday that they plan to acquire 37 diesel locomotives and 1,500 freight cars in 1959.

Harry C. Murphy, railroad president, said the new equipment "represents an investment of more than $23,000,000 in even better service for our shippers."

A total of 1,380 of the cars will be built at Burlington's Havelock Shops here.

Of that number 600 will be 50-ton steel boxcars, 100 will be 70-ton insulated boxcars with cushion underframes and roller bearings, 500 70-ton bulkhead gondolas and 50 50-ton bulkhead flatcars and 30 steel cabooses equipped with radio.

The Burlington is adding 200 men to its force at Havelock in connection with new car construction and an expanded program of heavy repairs to existing freight cars.

State Leading Real Property Reappraisal

Nebraska leads all other midwestern states in the reappraisal of real property, both by commercial appraisal firms and local committees, State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington said Wednesday.

The percentage of reappraised "good" land in Nebraska—good crop and grazing land—is much higher than such studies on comparable land in surrounding states, the tax chief said.

Herrington stated that 52 or 53 of the state's 93 counties have had land reappraisals by commercial firms, and that another 15 counties have made some effort at revaluation by using local committees.

"All but 3 or 4 counties have classified farm lands into such categories as tillable, pasture, range, hay and waste lands," Herrington said.

20 Note Difference

He added that Nebraska now has some 20 counties "recognizing the difference in value between irrigated and dry land."

Iowa has had "a lot of appraisals and comes the closest to us," Herrington said, but he noted that Kansas, as another example, "just started permitting appraisals a couple of years ago."

South Dakota has had "several appraisals but is just getting started," Wyoming has had "nothing to speak of," Minnesota has had a "few," and Missouri has one county now undergoing reappraisal, according to the tax commissioner.

Colorado, he added, was completely appraised by the state a few years ago, but as far as local subdivisions of government conducting individual land revaluations, there have been none.

Nebraska counties began reappraisals of all real property in 1945 and 1946.

Such revaluations can be kept up to date by the county's watching economic changes, building removals and additions and adjusting accordingly each year, Herrington said, noting that most counties have done this.

Eastern states are way ahead in such appraisals, the tax commissioner said, but only Texas in the southwest and California and Washington in the west have had a few revaluations outside of the midwest.

Pleased Mothers Check School Fire Hazards

By Bill Anderson

When calls from anxious Lincoln mothers began to pour into her office after the recent tragic Chicago school fire, Principal Eunice Preston of Elliott School at 225 So. 25th decided to do something about it.

To help allay some of the fears, Miss Preston arranged a fire inspection tour of the school, its facilities and fire prevention methods.

Wednesday, a group of 30 mothers arrived, were split into 3 touring groups and set off to see if they could find any fire hazards.

"They were very enthusiastic over the safety measures we use here," Miss Preston said.

The first group of 10 discussed and were shown the operation of the fire drill, conducted at Elliott monthly. It takes the 700 children attending the 3-story school building only 1½ minutes to leave after the fire alarm is sounded.

"These children are trained until leaving a building quickly and calmly becomes a well-learned habit," Miss Preston says.

Sixth-grade students help younger children by opening fire exit doors (there are 3 doors on each floor) and keeping the evacuation orderly.

One Boy Carried

One boy at Elliott, crippled and on crutches, is carried from the building by two of his classmates in an armchair carry.

Another group inspected the furnace room. The Elliott school has a furnace that develops only about 7 lbs. of pressure. If pressure increases to 12 lbs. (about the same as a large pressure cooker), a safety valve releases the steam. Ashes are kept in a cement room, behind an iron door.

The 3rd group examined building construction, fire extinguishers and other safety devices. The mothers were shown how to operate extinguishers.

"This building is virtually fireproof," Miss Preston states. The stairways are made of tile, cement and iron, all the walls are solid brick and ceilings are made of plaster, cement and iron.

The auditorium, separated from the classroom building, is equally safe, according to Miss Preston. The Christmas tree and other holiday trappings now on stage, are "drenched" with fireproofing.

"I believe all Lincoln schools have excellent fire prevention equipment and methods," she says.

"Nobody can guarantee against fires, but we can do everything in our power to prevent and guard against them," she said.

Extinguisher Inspected

Betrothal Announced

MISS MARY LUCILLE HEMPHILL

Announcement is being made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hemphill of Tekamah of the betrothal of their daughter, Mary Lucille, to Ronald L. Speer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Speer of Hay Springs.

Plans are being made for a summer wedding.

A senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority, the bride-elect is a former member of The Lincoln Star reportorial staff.

Mr. Speer is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity. He is a member of The Lincoln Star sports staff.

FORECAST FOR FUN

—The holiday calendar is going to have to stretch—and stretch—and stretch—if it's going to hold all the festive parties, casual drop-in affairs and arrivals and departures of guests and travelers for the next few weeks.

In the midst of plans for the gala season, a group of Lincoln friends have become really curious over mysterious invitations in verse which continue to arrive by mail giving warning of a party to be held next Tuesday evening. Instigators of the affair, who sign themselves the Jolly Elves, have announced they will "come a-carolling", and have advised their guests to be ready, clad in slacks and old clothes.

* * *

—A pre-Christmas "primer" party has been planned for Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Ron Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Larson will entertain their friends at the Clark home. Fifteen couples have been invited to the 7:30 o'clock hors d'oeuvres affair.

* * *

—And we understand there will be several informal drop-in affairs on Saturday evening preceding the annual dinner-dance of the Lancaster County Medical Association and Auxiliary members which will begin at 7 o'clock at the Lincoln Air Force Base Officers Club.

Hosts and hostesses at a 5:30 o'clock canape party will be Dr. and Mrs. George E. Lewis, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Francis Neumayer who will entertain 30 couples at the Neumayer home.

Incidentally, the committee chairmen in charge of arrangements for the dinner and dance are Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Harvey, Dr. and Mrs. George E. Lewis, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Jon T. Williams.

* * *

—Learned of a "cookie exchange" to be held next Tuesday morning when Mrs. F. A. Pierson, Jr., and Mrs. James Weesner will be cohostesses at a 10 o'clock coffee to be held at the home of Mrs. Weesner. Thirty-six guests have been asked to call and bring "a batch" of cookies to exchange.

* * *

—Guests in the news this morning include Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bunten, Jr., and their children, Connie and Drew, of Cheyenne, Wyo., who will arrive in Lincoln on Sunday, Dec. 21, to spend the holidays with Mrs. Bunten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau.

And completing the family group will be Miss Margot DuTeau who will return home on Saturday, Dec. 20, from Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., to spend the Christmas holiday with her parents and brother-in-law and sister.

* * *

—Understand that members of the Howey family will be packing in the near future for their trip to Denver where they will spend Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howey and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howey, plan to leave on Saturday, Dec. 20, for the Colorado capitol.

Mr. and Mrs. Howey will be the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hord (Nancy Howey), while the Robert Howeys will visit Mrs. Howey's mother, Mrs. Dudley Green.

* * *

—Incidentally, if you are looking for a gift for that hard to please friend, the Christmas Print Festival at Morrill Hall offered by the Nebraska Art Association should present a solution.

Drawings by many young contemporary artists are featured in the exhibit and include Kenneth Evett, painter of the recently completed murals in Nebraska's Capitol; Ulfert Wilke, who recently has returned from Japan with extraordinary calligraphic water colors; Gordon Russell, one of the Art in America's new talent selections for 1958; and Reginald Pollock, young American artist working in Paris whose, "Landscape With Figures," has been acquired for the permanent Hall Collection at the university galleries.

To Be Summer Bride

MISS ANNETTE GAYLE SUNDERMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Sunderman of Omaha this morning are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Annette Gayle, to Lt. Henry Randall Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Frost of Elkhorn.

The wedding will be an event of August.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Alpha Lambda Delta and Pi Lambda Theta honoraries.

Her fiance is a former student at the University of Nebraska and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. Lt. Frost is serving with the Army and is stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

STAR IN SUBURBIA

The younger generation has had a busy week and almost every new item this morning has to do with their activities of late.

EASTBOROUGH

A newcomer to the bassinet brigade in Eastborough this week is William Martin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, who was born at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Monday, Dec. 1. William has one brother, James.

His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nickel of Alvo, and Mrs. Bessie Carlson and Lawrence Johnson are his paternal grandparents.

This seems to be a busy birthday week in our Eastborough suburbia and we have news of three birthday parties to note.

It was last Thursday when Kathy Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Moulton Jr., was a birthday honoree at her home where she celebrated her fourth anniversary. Those joining the fun at the luncheon were Sherri Owen, Patti Otto, Lu Anne Otto, Pam Manske, Julie Moulton, Terry Lynn Johnston, and Kathy's sister, Mary Jo.

And then we heard that Ricky Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Owen, celebrated his sixth birthday yesterday at his home. Those included in the guest list were LuAnne Otto, Jimmy Farkas, Cary Wepler, Mark Hughes, Timmy Burtch, Todd Edstrom, Gary Williams, and Ricky's sister, Sherri.

And still turning one more page in our birthday book we find on Saturday evening Ricky Dolk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dolk, will be a host at his home when he celebrates his ninth anniversary. Those present at the dinner will be Denny Morgan, Ricky and Randy Durfee, Mike Bradsby, Johnny Red, Bobby Robinson, and Douglas Wilson.

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morgan had as their guests last week end Mrs. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Fuller of Council Bluffs. The Fullers were in Eastborough to help their grandson, David Morgan, celebrate his third birthday.

There's a bridge party on the agenda for tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Joe Ritter. Those attending the evening game and dessert will include Mrs. Merle Hahn, Mrs. Ed Marty, Mrs. Harry Rust, Mrs. Robert Longman, Mrs. Stanley Bird, Mrs. Robert Bridegs, and Mrs. Robert Hartsock of Omaha, who is a former member of the bridge club.

BSP Meets

The members of Beta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met Thursday evening to discuss plans for their Christmas projects of making and selling peanut brittle and for selling Christmas cards.

Mrs. William Brier presided at the meeting during which the group elected Mrs. Victor Dormer as the chapter's candidate for Valentine Queen.

The chapter's Christmas party will be held Dec. 16, at the home of Mrs. Dale Smallcomb.

KAT Alumnae

The alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta and active chapter members will entertain at the sorority's annual Christmas party for the children of the alumnae next Wednesday evening. Mrs. Harold Hellweg will serve as chairman in charge of arrangements for the 7 o'clock affair, to be held at the chapter house.

Holiday Party

The members of Xi Beta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met for a holiday dinner recently when Mrs. Elmer Dudgeon, Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, Mrs. Harold Crawford and Mrs. Sylvis Koll were hostesses.

Each member contributed her favorite holiday dish and the recipe from which it was made.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Marjorie Morris.

Dear Abby . . .

All Right—If!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have two teen-aged youngsters who study with radio, TV and sometimes the record-player going full blast. They say all the kids do it and they can study better with it on. Do you think I should put a stop to it?

AVERAGE MOTHER

DEAR AVERAGE: If the children bring home all "A's" . . . by all means let them study any way they choose, BUT, if their grades could be improved — help them by removing all distractions.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who comes from a well-to do prominent (please don't use my name) family. I make friends easily and enjoy mixing with people and going places. I am in love with a fellow who is exactly the opposite in every way. He comes from very poor, uneducated people and their reputation is quite bad. He doesn't want to meet or be with people. I know he loves me, Abby, because I understand him. We can't stay away from each other. They say "opposites attract." What are our chances for a happy marriage?

JANE DOE

DEAR JANE: Opposites attract—trouble! The more you have in common, the better your chances are for a happy marriage.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an eight-year old son. I met a very attractive man where I work (I am a waitress) about a year ago and we started going out together. He wants to marry me. The only thing I have against him is that he was married twice and divorced twice. Two of his children by his second marriage go to the same school my son goes to and these children bear his name. I have explained this relationship to my own son. He says, "Mommy, if Billy and Bobby's Mamma couldn't stay married to him, why don't you call her up and ask her why?" Do you think I dare? I have never met her.

TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: "From the mouths of babes . . . "What have you got to lose?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Regarding brides in white gowns and veils. I think you are wrong Abby. Many girls are pure in heart but have made one mistake. If the color WHITE is the symbol of chastity, no wonder so many men wear dark suits.

"VI"

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Double Duty, Double Fun

The Lincoln Air Force Base Officers Wives held their annual Christmas luncheon at the Officers Club on Wednesday afternoon, and highlighting the afternoon's festivities were a gift exchange and a visit from St. Nick and his twin brother.

Marriage

The wedding of Miss Sharon Lee Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice R. Baker of Englewood, Colo., formerly of Lincoln, and Marvin Leroy Churchill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Churchill, took place Tuesday morning, Dec. 9, at the First Presbyterian Church in Englewood. The Rev. Allen Strong read the lines of the double ring service in the presence of members of the family.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. John K. Howard of Denver, who wore a daytime frock in royal blue.

John K. Howard of Denver served Mr. Churchill as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a tailored ensemble in light blue tweed with which she wore a small hat of white lace. She carried a white Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill left for a wedding trip to New Mexico. The bridegroom at present is serving with the Navy.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Reddick have had as their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Butler and their daughters, Charlotte, Sheila and Nancy, of Des Moines. Mr. and Mrs. Butler, both graduates of the University of Nebraska where Mr. Butler also received his Masters Degree, with their daughters will move soon to Mexico City, Mexico, to reside.

★

Planning to spend the Christmas holidays in San Antonio, Tex., are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sharrick who will leave Dec. 20, to be the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bernbaum, and granddaughter, Joan Lynn. Mr. Sharrick will return home after Christmas, but Mrs. Sharrick will visit family members in Kansas City during the New Year's week end.

★

Mrs. P. N. Kelly returned to Lincoln last week end after a two-week vacation spent in Pittsfield, Mass., where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelly, and their son, Mickey.

★

Announcing the girth of a son, Rock Robert, on Friday, Dec. 5, are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nemeth of Spokane, Wash., formerly of Lincoln. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Veach and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nemeth of Lincoln, and his mother is the former Lorraine Veach. Young Rock also has five brothers and sisters.

Commies Reject Land Corridor Plan For Berlin

Berlin (UPI) — The East German Communists rejected a suggestion by Mayor Willy Brandt that free West Berlin be linked to West Germany by a guaranteed international land corridor.

They also made it clear that all traffic to and from a "free city" of West Berlin would be at the mercy of the Reds.

At the same time, West Germany hailed President Eisenhower's statement on the Berlin crisis at a press conference in Washington. Eisenhower said the United States would stand firm behind its responsibility and duty to remain in West Berlin as a means of maintaining the freedom of West Germans until the Berlin situation was composed by all the interested powers.

Official West German sources said the statement dispelled all doubts of the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on the American attitude.

Commentary

Brandt's corridor proposal was made in an interview with a Copenhagen newspaper. The Communist rejection came in a commentary circulated by the official East German News agency ADN.

ADN derided Brandt's suggestion that a land corridor carved through 110 miles of East German territory would serve to shield East Germany against infiltrating "Western agents." One of the major complaints by the Communists against West Berlin is that it is an alleged base for anti-Communist agents.

"By shutting out all control of the (East) German Democratic Republic over its territory, Brandt's suggestion would further the possibility of strengthening the operation of agents in West Berlin against. . . all Socialist countries," ADN said.

"At the same time it would further the role of West Berlin as an advanced NATO strongpoint."

Serov May Get Important Duties In Regular Army

Moscow (UPI) —Diplomatic sources reported that Gen. Ivan Serov, relieved from his post as head of Soviet security, would receive an important military assignment in the regular Army.

The report was not confirmed officially. Observers, however, said such an appointment would not be surprising in view of Serov's military training and experience.

Serov's release from his security duties "in connection with his taking up other work" was announced by Moscow Radio Monday night and published in a brief dispatch in newspapers here.

According to the Soviet encyclopedia, Serov was graduated from a military secondary school in 1928 and served in the artillery forces. He was regimental chief of staff when he was assigned to the Frunze Military Academy, the highest staff college, from which he was graduated in 1939.

Portland, Maine (AP) — A vagrant set his own sentence in Municipal Court.

When Charles I. Coffin, 56, pleaded guilty to being an idle and disorderly person, Judge Sidney W. Wernick commented:

"I understand you'd like to go to jail for the winter."

"I guess that wouldn't do any harm," Coffin answered.

"How long do you need, 90 days?" the judge asked.

"Sixty days will be all righ," Coffin suggested. And 60 days it was.

BIDS SET FOR NEW BUILDING AT STATE HOSPITAL

A Dec. 23 date has been set for opening of bids for construction of a $240,000 administration building at Lincoln State Hospital, Board of Control member Harold Petersen has announced.

Bids were opened sometime ago, but were rejected as too high.

The board has spent some $10,000 for wrecking the old administration building at Lincoln State Hospital which was destroyed by fire.

Advertisement for bids will be made shortly after the first of the year on a $246,000 cottage at the Training School for Boys in Kearney. The cottage will house some 100 boys.

Bids also will be advertised for a $240,000 addition to the hospital building at the Beatrice State Home. The plans are being drawn by a Lincoln architectural firm.

The addition will house some 100 younger patients with lower I. Q.'s who must be hospitalized for two to 3 years before being placed in wards.

Its construction will permit wrecking of one of the home's oldest structures, a 3 story building recently judged a fire hazard by the state fire marshal's office.

All weather sprinkler systems will be installed in two other buildings at the Beatrice State Home.

Two new cottages at the Girls' Training School in Geneva will be completed by Feb. 1. Construction costs will total some $250,000.

Floored 4 Times

ARCHIE KAYOS DURELLE

Archie . . . Floored In 1st, Takes 4th-Round Poke . . . But Durelle Is Last Down, Loses

Keeps Title With Rally

Canadian Surprises Champ With 3 Knockdowns In 1st Round

Montreal (AP)—Floored 4 times, 3 times in the first round, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore smashed his way from the brink of defeat Wednesday to knock out rugged Yvon Durelle of Canada in 49 seconds of the 11th round in a sensational title fight.

It looked like curtains for the 41-year old champion when the muscular Durelle nailed him with a left and right to the jaw to drop him for a 9 count in the first round and then decked him twice more in the round.

Archie was down for counts of 9, 2, and 7 in that round and was floored again for 5 in the 5th. He was in real trouble until that round was over.

But in the 7th the masterful champion turned the tide. He felled Durelle for a two count in the 7th, for 8 at the bell in the 10th and then finished him off with a terrific series of barrages in the 11th.

Moore, who set an all-time knockout record of 127, seemed to sense he was going to get Durelle in the 11th. He stormed across the ring and smashed the bleeding challenger to the canvas with a left and right to the jaw. Yvon, blood streaming from his nose, tottered to his feet at 9.

Both Barrels

Archie let loose with both barrels. He belted away and then finished off the reeling Durelle with a lightning fast left and right to the jaw.

As Referee Jack Sharkey, the former world heavyweight champion, started to toll it seemed everyone in the Forum knew it was all over. Durelle slumped on his side then tried to pull himself up as the count reached 10.

Archie's amazing comeback from disaster was so complete that the 3 judges had him leading on points at the end of 10 rounds.

Judge Rene Ouimet had it 46-45, Lucien Germain 44-42 and Harry Shulman 44-42. The judges do the voting here. The 5 points "must" system was used, with the winner getting 5 points a round and the loser 4 or less. The Associated Press had Moore in front 44-41.

7th Defense

It was the 7th title defense for Moore and his 5th straight knockout victory in a title defense.

Moore weighed 173¾, his lightest in more than 4 years, and for a time it looked like that might have been the reason for his bad start. Durelle weighed 172, his lightest in 20 months.

A crowd of about 13,000 in the chilly arena and an American and Canadian television audience thrilled to the spectacular eight-knockdown thriller with the different twist.

It was the general opinion that Durelle's chances rested on getting past the first 5 or 6 rounds. It worked just the opposite.

From the 6th round on, Moore won every round from the 3 officials.

But you would not have given a thin dime for Archie's chances after that almost incredible first round.

Down For 9

Archie, fighting out of a crouch, was boxing easily when Durelle suddenly nailed him with a left and right to the jaw that dropped Archie for 9 and sent the throng into an uproar.

Referee Sharkey's count couldn't be heard in the din.

The pro-Durelle fans roared for Yvon, of Baie Ste. Anne, N.B. to "get him, get him."

Moore was dazed and reeling. Yvon charged like a mad bull after a stricken matador. He smashed Archie to the floor again with a left hook for a two-count.

Durelle went after his victim once more. This time a left and right sent Moore spinning to the deck for 7. On each occasion the count couldn't be heard in the tremendous uproar.

Moore started using his left

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

It looks like any change in basketball classification alignment is going to be up to the Board of Control of the Nebraska School Activities Assn.

This is the group which controls the state basketball tourney, and has the final say in classification. The board gave the larger Representative Assembly a chance to express an opinion on the subject of combining classes last week, but the assembly was very non-committal.

A recommendation that the board poll Class D and E members next year to find out their preferences was all that came out of the assembly meeting. Such a poll would be little, if any, help.

That a re-grouping of classes, probably the dropping of one class at least, will be necessary seems obvious. With Class E down to 103 teams this year, realignment is not an absolute "must" for this season, but it will be if expected consolidation continues. If not by 1959-60, at least by the year after that.

Someone at the assembly meeting asked why more teams were not put into Class AA. I'll admit there are times when I wish there were more than 16 AA teams, since it is sometimes difficult to find 10 good teams for the basketball ratings.

But some time spent punching an adding machine came up with some interesting figures.

Class AA, although having only 16 schools, has nearly twice as large a boy enrollment as any other class. Here is the total boy enrollment of the schools in each class:

Class AA (16 schools)—11,834; Class A (32)—6,928; Class B (64)—6,273; Class C (128)—6,611; Class D (128)—3.729; Class E (103)—1,602.

If Class AA were increased, for instance, to 32 teams, it would mean that Falls City with 197 boy students would be forced to compete with Omaha South and its 1,304 boys. I doubt that Falls City would favor such a move.

Certainly, Falls City on occasion might field a team strong enough to beat the big schools, but over the years the ledger would be in the red most of the time.

A fairer move might be to increase Class A to 64 teams, which would make the largest school have 405 students (Kearney) to 200 for the smallest. Even this is rather wide separation.

But the figures also show that Classes D and E combined would have only 5,331 boys enrolled, still the smallest of any class under the present setup, even with 231 schools (the total would be less next year).

Enlarging the bigger classes would not solve a major problem, which is excessive travel to district tourneys by the small schools. Only the combination of the smaller classes would help that problem, although it can never be completely solved.

And the break between the largest and smallest schools in such a class? Currently, it would be 38 down to 7.

The Board of Control recognizes that something is going to have to be done, and after the assembly meeting last week, the board should recognize that it is going to have to do it. There is no one to which the board can pass the buck.

The idea of the poll, of course, was to give the small schools a say in the proposal. But it would seem obvious that most D schools will favor combining with E, since they, theoretically, would have a better chance of winning. By the same reasoning, most E schools would oppose.

Any poll should not ask whether the schools want to combine, but rather offer several suggestions as to how it might be accomplished.

Then the board of control will have to do it.

Fremont Meets Lincoln Schools In AA Tourney

Beatrice Dropped To Class A Status

. . . In Basketball Realignment

By Al Beebe

As expected, Fremont joins the 3 Lincoln high schools in a Class AA district under assignments released Wednesday by the Nebraska School Activities Assn.

The change was necessitated when Beatrice, which was paired with the local schools last year, was bumped out of the largest 16 schools on an enrollment basis by Omaha Westside. Beatrice was dropped to Class A.

Westside moves into the Fremont slot in an Omaha district. Seven of the 16 AA schools are from Omaha, plus Boys Town just outside the Gate City.

Chairmen Named

In addition to setting the teams to be in each district of the 6 classes (the same as last year), the NSAA also has selected a district chairman for each. It will be his duty to contact by mail, telephone or call a meeting of representatives from each district school to select the tournament location.

District basketball tournaments in the 4 lower classes will be held the week of Feb. 23-28. Lower class playoffs and district tourneys in AA and A are slated March 2-7, with the state tourney at the Nebraska Coliseum March 12-14.

103 "E" Schools

As in the past several years, there are 16 schools in Class AA, 32 in A, 64 in B, 128 in C and D, with the remaining 103 schools in Class E.

The major districting change in Class A from last season was caused by another Omaha school the new Bishop Ryan, which is Class A on enrollment although it has only a freshman class this season. That shifted Plattsmouth from an Omaha district into the group which held its tourney at Lincoln last year.

Columbus from that group of southeastern schools was shifted into the district with such as Holdrege, Kearney, Lexington, York, etc.

Class AA holds four 4-team districts, A four 8-team tourneys, Class B eight 8-team districts, with 16 tourneys of 8 teams each in C and D. The 16 Class E tourneys vary, 10 with 6 teams, 5 with 7, and one with 8.

UNIVAC SAID WRONG; OSU END WOODS NOT 2ND BEST

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Was Univac short-circuited or fed bum information the day it tabbed Jim Wood the nation's second best football player?

The Oklahoma State University coaching staff, in asking that question, supplies its own answer: "Yes."

"How else could Wood be second to anybody?"

Univac placed the 212-pound OSU end behind George Deiderich of Vanderbilt on the basis of information from 145 coaches scattered around the nation.

"Wood is the best in our books," says Coach Cliff Speegle, whose Cowboys tangle with Florida State in the first annual Bluegrass Bowl here Saturday.

As an added attraction, Bluegrass Bowl sponsors are bringing in Addie Darling, the "Golden Girl" majorette of Purdue University, whose gyrations were widely publicized this season.

Clark's 30 Points Pep OSU 66-39

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Tall Arlen Clark scored 30 points and the Texas Longhorns didn't add many more as Oklahoma State triumphed 66-39 in an intersectional basketball game Wednesday night.

Clark tallied 22 points before halftime although the Aggies pulled ahead 35-17 by intermission.

The ball-controlling Oklahoma State crew hit 56.5 per cent of its shots and Clark sank all 7 of his attempts up to that point.

Texas shut out Clark from the field in the second half but the tall Aggie sank 8 free throws.

The victory was Oklahoma State's second of the season. Texas now has a 1-2 record.

Boyd Changes Mind; Quits Baylor Post

Waco, Tex. (AP) — Sam Boyd gave up the fight Wednesday and resigned as head football coach of Baylor in the face of a gathering alumni storm. He had just wound up a second losing season.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor, immediately announced that "there will be a dynamic organization with a chain of command functioning along sound administrative and academic lines."

Boyd's resignation came just before a meeting of the Baylor Board of Trustees at which a decision on the coachs future was to be made. The resignation was announced by Dr. White.

Boyd quit just 6 days after George Sauer, the athletic director, resigned to enter private business. Abner McCall, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, said only that Sauer "resigned because his contract ran out." But he also had been under the fire of alumni.

Dr. White said the faculty committee would move immediately to obtain a new athletic director and a new football coach. He added that it had not been decided if a combination man would be sought rather than two men.

"Opportunity"

When asked what the jobs or job would pay, Dr. McCall grinned and said "Opportunity."

Arch Kayos Foe In 11th Round

jab effectively to keep Durelle back in the second round and it looked like he was out of trouble when he nailed Yvon with a solid left hook to the jaw.

But Archie just managed to stave off defeat in the next 3 rounds as Durelle got in a couple of good shots each round.

In the 5th, the crude, strong challenger again brought the fans to their feet by felling Moore for a count of 5 with a thumping right to the jaw. He set it up with a left to the body and a right to the jaw.

Durelle crowded Archie all over the ring in another attempt to finish off the reeling champion who tried desperately to hold on.

Then suddenly before the bell sounded, Archie staggered Durelle with a right and left to the jaw. That may have been the beginning of the end for Durelle.

Drew Blood

From the 6th on Moore worked over his incoming foe with left jabs that drew blood from Durelle's nose and short left hooks and rights to the head that jarred the rugged fighting fisherman repeatedly.

Durelle, however, wasn't completely through. He hurt Moore in the 7th with a hard right to the jaw. Then Moore floored Durelle for the first time with a right to the jaw and a jolting left and right to the chin. Yvon jumped up at two and managed to last out the round.

Moore so carefully worked Durelle over in the 8th and 9th rounds that most of Durelle's punches bounced against Archie's arms or slid over the top of his head.

Durelle Dazed

In the 10th Archie, operating like a surgeon, smashed Yvon all over the ring. A 6-punch barrage sent the dazed Durelle to his knees. The bell sounded at the count of 8.

Archie went out for the kill in the 11th and he made it with neat and fast dispatch. He stormed out of his corner, and smashed Yvon to the floor for 9 with a left and right to the chin. Then a nifty left and right to the jaw put Durelle down for keeps.

Durelle "Tops"

Archie grinned happily in his dressing room after the fight.

"I knew I had him after the 4th round, but before that I was awfully rocky," said the fortyish Moore.

"Durelle is one of the very top light-heavyweights I have ever fought," the old ring master said as reporters and photographers ganged around him.

"I have to feel sorry he lost. But of course I have to look out for myself."

Across the Forum, the Canadian sat in his dressing room, drying his tears.

"I was trying too hard, that was my mistake. I was too eager," Durelle said.

Loafing Costs Boxers $1,000

Rome (AP) — Two leading Italian boxers have been fined $1,000 each for allegedly failing to do their best in a title bout.

The two — Italian middleweight champion Italo Scortichini and challenger Giancarlo Garbelli—met for the Italian title in Milan Nov. 29. The scheduled 12-rounder was stopped in the 9th round. The referee said he suspected "connivance" by the two boxers.

The disciplinary commission of the Italian Boxing Federation cleared the boxers of the "connivance" charge, saying there was insufficient proof.

But the commission imposed the fines and said the boxers "failed to live up to their professional duties, showing a fighting spirit inadequate to the importance of the match."

Springfield, S.D. (UPI) — Southern State scored in the final minute to gain a 62-60 basketball victory over Wayne State of Nebraska.

DUTCHER QUITS CORNELL POST

Mount Vernon, Iowa (AP) — Jim Dutcher, athletic director and football and track coach at Cornell College, said Wednesday he is resigning effective next June.

Dutcher, head coach of two sports here since 1953 and director of Cornell's required 4-year physical education program, said he will become director of physical education, intramural sports and athletics in the public schools of Billings, Mont.

A graduate of Doane College, Crete, Neb., where he spent 10 years as athletic director and coach, Dutcher came to Cornell from the University of South Dakota, which he served as football line coach.

Turner Leading NU Rebounder

Hersch Turner, Nebraska's junior guard, has resumed his usual position at the head of the list of NU rebounders. Turner, who led the club in this department last year, has 27 for the first 3 games.

Jim Kowalke, sophomore forward, has picked off 24 to challenge Turner while Al Maxey has 16, Bob Harry 15 and Wayne Hester 7 among NU starters. George Swank, with 13, and John Cahill, with 10, lead Huskers reserves.

Seven Coturnix quail leg bands and one verified report of an unbanded bird killed by a hunter have been turned in to the Nebraska Game Commission since the Oct. 25 opening of the quail season.

Many unverifie reports of Coturnix kills have been received.

Of the 8 verified reports, 5 of the birds were shot, one was road killed, and two were found dead.

Of those felled by hunters, 4 were taken in Nebraska and one in Kansas. The Coturnix shot at Netawaka, Kans., was 145 miles from its release point. Of the Nebraska kills, a bird which was released near North Loup was taken at Ellis, a distance of 125 miles. The other two banded birds traveled less than 50 miles.

LSU Boss '58 Coach Of Year

New York (AP) — Paul Dietzel, coach of the all-winning, national champion Louisiana State football team, Wednesday had another prize to add to his personal belongings.

Campy Named 'Man Of Year'

New York (AP)—Roy Campanella heard himself described as one of the great men of America and one who has done more for the Negroes in baseball than any man of his race.

Campanella

These tributes were heaped upon the paralyzed Los Angeles catcher by New York State Governor-Elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick at a dinner tendered by the Kiwanis Club of New York honoring Campy as "Man of the Year".

A hand-lettered citation plaque, similar to one awarded ex-Governor Thomas E. Dewey a year ago, was presented to Roy. It cited Campy's "contribution to sportsmanship, helpfulness to youth and magnificent fortitude" during his active days as a player and his long period of confinement following his tragic automobile accident last January.

Among the many tributes was one from President Eisenhower in the form of a telegram which praised Campanella for his "courage, generosity, tremendous spirit, humility and good humor."

Trimble said Austin is on the Big 4 Football Union champions negotiation list. He plans to meet with Austin soon.

Pius Seeks 1st Victory

Pius X and Seward Concordia, two high school basketball teams which were dealt opening game losses, bid for their first victory of the 1958-59 campaign at Seward tonight.

The contest was originally slated for Friday night, but was switched when Concordia had trouble obtaining the gym that night.

Pius was embarrassed by Tecumseh 31-28 in its opener las week while Concordia stumbled before Seward 42-36. Both Pius and Concordia were powerhouses in their classes last year, but graduation losses were heavy at both schools.

Jere Carey and Ed Regelean, newcomers to the Pius lineup, are expected to lead the Thunderbolts tonight. Other Pius starters will probably be Bill Neal, Paul Ryan and Gary Brouillette.

Farm Bureau Resolutions Seek 'Strict Government Economy'

Boston (AP)—Convention resolutions of the American Farm Bureau Federation declared that inflation is the nation's most serious economic problem.

The document asserted that a continuing policy of deficit spending by the federal government "would be worse than reckless—it would be dishonest."

Scheduled to be approved by delegates, the resolutions would put the big farm organization on record as opposed to further increases in the national debt limit unless absolutely necessary to meet a national emergency.

"The times require that government exercise strict economy, eliminate duplication of effort and promote efficient operations. . . . Congress must take effective measures to regain control of federal expenditures," the document said.

Loans

In the field of international affairs, the resolutions called for continuation of programs to strengthen the will of free nations to resist Communism. It said, however, economic aid should emphasize loans rather than gifts.

The policy drafters called for sale of surplus farm products to Communist areas whenever such sales would advance the welfare and security of the United States.

The platform took slaps at what it called encroachment of the federal government on rights of the states and individuals—particularly in the field of private property and management and control of natural resources.

On what has become a big issue in western states where water supplies often are deficient, the resolutions called for legislation to require federal agencies to comply with state laws relating to the use of water and to respect private rights to water established by state authority.

Atom Material

The document opposed federal production, transmission and distribution of electrical power, including the harnessing of atomic materials for this purpose.

In calling for reduced federal spending, the Platform Committee said a new farm program proposal laid before the convention for approval would "materially reduce" appropriations for agriculture.

"We insist that other groups share in the reductions that are necessary to balance the budget."

Brooks Plans To Open City Office Soon

Governor-elect Ralph Brooks expects to open an office in Lincoln this week, but said the location has not yet been settled.

Brooks said things are a bit difficult now with his having "one office in McCook, another in Lincoln, one in Omaha and one in my automobile."

He will centralize his activities with the office in Lincoln where his mail can be sent to one place "instead of all the locations it now reaches'.'

Ball Considered

The Democratic governor-elect also confirmed that he has been approached by many persons interested in having an inaugural ball.

"I understand the Democrats are working on it," Brooks said, adding that "many queries have come from Republicans in Lincoln who are interested in having it as well as Democrats."

He said he understood a committee was being formed to make plans for the ball, but stated he did not know who would make up the committee.

Lincoln's Pershing Memorial Auditorium has been suggested as a possible site for the ball, which probably would be held the evening of January 8 following his inauguration as governor.

Brooks said, "I have too many other problems to be concerned about an inaugural ball. I'm having my ball right now."

Jordan Charges New Arms Plot

Amman, Jordan (AP) — The government claimed the discovery of a new plot to smuggle Egyptian arms into Jordan.

A patrol reported seizing 1,000 rounds of Egyptian ammunition, other military equipment and two camels hidden in a cave in the southern part of the country. One man was arrested. He was described as an armed Arab from Egypt-governed Gaza.

This is the 3rd attempt at smuggling arms from the United Arab Republic reported by the Jordanian authorities since last July.

Funds 'Virtually Assured' For Minority Housing, Employment Study

By Virgil Falloon

The mayor's Council on Human Relations was virtually assured Wednesday that $2,500 needed for its recommended "fact-finding" survey on minority housing and employment would be obtained.

Mayor Bennett Martin informed the committee during a special meeting Wednesday that the necessary funds may be raised privately "within the next several weeks."

"If not available privately," he added, "the City Council will be asked to consider the necessary appropriation."

A local organization has the fund request under consideration and indications are for favorable action, he said.

"Still Needed"

Dr. C. Vin White, subcommittee chairman, said the survey as recommended last June is still needed because:

—The city should have a long-range program based upon facts. It should anticipate improvements rather than "just put out fires."

—Any fact-finding survey must be made by professional persons that will produce and competently evaluate the information sought.

Dr. Leroy Laase said University of Nebraska would still be able to provide the necessary personnel and supervision "this next summer," but probably not during the current school year.

It had been proposed the University-supervised survey be made this past summer, but the necessary funds were not obtained.

"I think it is becoming important that we (mayor's council) be able to announce something 'positive' as soon as possible," the committee member said.

"More families are living in a certain area than can be justified under city housing ordinances," Dr. Laase said. "Also house-hunting complaints to the Lincoln Council of Churches are increasing."

"People who know these facts are becoming impatient," Dr. Laase said. "They also fear the survey may be just another delaying tactic. Something must be done with or without a survey."

Another member, Mrs. M. C. Leonard noted that some people "went into urban renewal to get something accomplished" and that there is "a need for understanding" of its mechanics.

Mayor Martin took over temporary chairmanship of the committee at the special meeting.

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, its former chairman, resigned recently because he felt the Council's work was "being stymied without guidance and financial support from the city administration."

'Enthusiastic'

Martin said that Dr. White, who had also planned to resign, would continue to serve. Dr. White was "enthusiastic about the outlook in our talk following the meeting," the Mayor said.

The Rev. G. L. Collins, Negro minister and committee member, said, "We colored people definitely appreciate the efforts being put forward by this committee."

Mayor Martin said the next meeing would be left subject to call pending a report before Dec. 31 on whether or not private funds can be obtained.

The proposed survey on minority housing would cover a specified area.

Area Overcrowded

At an earlier meeting, a 16-block area (19th to 23rd, Vine to R) was described as containing 302 dwellings housing about 600 families.

It was pointed out that under current Lincoln building and zoning codes, the maximum number of dwellings should be only 192.

Several Councilmen attended the meeting. Committee members present were Hyman Rosenberg, Lucille Ledwith, Wyatt Williams, Lt. Col. Thomas Powell for Col. Felix Hardison, Dr. White, Dr. Laase, the Rev. Mr. Collins, and Mrs. Leonard. Absent and out of town were Charles Stuart and Harold Hoppe.

February Draft Is For 9,000 Men

Washington (AP) — The Army Wednesday issued a draft call for 9,000 men in February. This is the same quota previously announced for January.

The new call brings to 2,414,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September, 1950.

Col. Francis Drath of Lincoln, state Selective Service director, said the Nebraska call would probably be about 60. The January call is 59.

Talks Wanted

London (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan suggested Britain, Turkey and Greece get together again to try to work out a solution to the Cyprus dispute.

"We still believe that useful progress could be made through a conference, either confined to the parties directly concerned, including of course Cypriot representatives, or with the assistance of others chosen by agreement," he told Parliament.

Seven new directors have been elected to serve 3-year terms on the board of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Robert B. Elrod, election chairman, reported Wednesday.

The 7, who will begin their terms December 16, are:

George B. Cook, A. James Ebel, Freeman E. Everett, Harry R. Haynie, Thomas R. Pansing, F. A. "Art," Reed, and Elwood N. Thompson.

Retiring directors include Robert Ammon, Ray Osborn, James Stuart, John R. Hedge, Ervin E. Peterson, Tom Sweeney and Burnham Yates, who was serving ex-officio during 1958 as immediate past president.

President Harry F. Hoppe, who completes his administration December 16, will continue as a director in 1959.

There are 14 other elected directors, and 9 who are appointed. New appointees will be named by Robert A. Dobson, Chamber president-elect, after he takes office.

Installation of new officers and directors will be at the board's annual dinner meeting, Tuesday evening, Dec. 16. New committee chairmen will be named shortly after, together with committee personnel, so the new administration can start functioning immediately after Jan. 1.

Assisting Chairman Elrod in tallying the ballots were Lowell R. King, Wilton Van Sickle, Ned Cadwallader and Max Meyer. The 5 immediate past presidents of the Chamber served as the nominating committee. They are Chairman Burnham Yates, Albert A. Held, Merle M. Hale, John E. Curtiss and Earl T. Luff.

Federal Funds For Bomb Shelter Construction Seen

A prediction has been made by Deputy Civil Defense Director Austin Bacon that the new Congress will pass measures allowing political subdivisions to use federal matching funds for bomb shelter construction.

Bacon said he plans to have several family and public type shelter models, made available by the Civil Defense Administration, shipped to Nebraska for display purposes throughout the state.

Shelters such as the models would be incorporated into public buildings should Congress pass legislation allowing federal matching funds for use in shelter construction.

Present law allows only federal buildings to incorporate shelters in their construction when the government pays the bill.

The new Omaha post office building will contain such a shelter, Bacon said.

Labor Market Follows Usual November Trends

The usual seasonal down-turn took place in the Nebraska labor market during November, with employment dropping and unemployment rising moderately as the month progressed, the State Labor Department reported.

The end of harvesting activities, construction shut downs and seasonal layoffs in agricultural equipment factories dominated job trends.

In construction, some workers shifted to new jobs as contractors pushed projects before the onset of cold weather.

Below '57 Total

Division local offices received 5,191 new applications for work in November compared to 3,585 in October. On Dec. 1, the total count of persons registered as seeking work through the facilities of the division local offices throughout Nebraska totaled 9,982. On Nov. 1, a month earlier, the total was 7,438 and a year ago on Dec. 1, 1957, it was 11,156.

During November, division local offices made 7,300 job placements, including 2,600 on farms.

Area summary of labor market conditions:

Alliance: Available labor showed the normal increase for November with 57 registered for work at the first of November and 88 at the end.

Beatrice: Adverse weather brought an increase in male labor supply due to layoffs in construction. The number of unemployed workers is still far below December 1, 1957.

Columbus: Increase in labor supply which began in October continued through November with count now 648. Labor demand dropped, especially in manufacturing.

Fremont: Labor supply showed a seasonal increase in November from 361 to 659. The present supply is 131 less than a year ago.

Grand Island: Although November job listings from employers were not as numerous as October due to normal seasonal trends, they were considerably higher than in November 1957. The labor supply increased from 299 to 475 during November.

Hastings: Area employment was higher in November than a year ago due to good crops and mild late fall weather. Registered labor supply remained at October's level and much lower than a year ago.

Kearney: Seasonal job openings began a downward trend due to a slowdown of outside projects. Registered labor supply jumped from 160 to 631 during the month; a year ago the count was 612.

Lincoln: Significant employment changes included expansion in trade and losses in construction and agriculture for a net loss of 350 in total employment. Unemployment estimate at 2,550.

McCook: Balanced labor market continues in the area. Some layoffs in construction resulted in an increase in registered job seekers from 118 on November 1 to 169 at the end of the month.

Nebraska City: Nonfarm job openings were under October, 249 to 329, but near November 1957 with 250.

Norfolk: Registered job seekers numbered 485 compared to 208 a month ago and 468 a year ago. Layoffs in construction and agriculture were responsible for the rise.

North Platte: Seasonal slackening in outdoor activities brought an increase of registered job seekers from 147 to 256 during the month.

Omaha: Dec. 1 count of registered job seekers of 3,279 is 20% more than a month ago, but 14% less than on the same day a year ago. Labor demand in all categories continued to decline from mid-October; trend is expected to continue.

Scottsbluff: Demand for nonfarm workers started the usual seasonal decline with 184 openings received, a decrease of 65% from October. Active file count decreased 11%, as transient workers left the area.

Sidney: Labor supply increased 25% during November with 186 persons listed as actively seeking work.

Hutchinson Firm Gets Contract For Sidney Elevator

Sidney, Neb. (AP)—A Hutchinson, Kan., firm has been awarded the contract for a new 279,000 bushel elevator for the Farmers Co-op Grain Co. of Sidney.

Co-op manager Warren Mettlen announced the contract went to Chalmers and Borton Construction Co. of Hutchinson who submitted low bid of $114,200.

Construction of the new vertical-type addition will bring the company's total elevator capacity to 609,000 bushels. Two hundred and fifty thousand bushels can be stored in vertical tanks at the plant and another 80,000 can be stored in a flat-storage structure built this year.

Mettlen said he expected construction to begin "before the first of the year."

Larkin 'Certain' Missing Pastor Was In His Store

Lincoln Star Special

Stella, Neb.—Back in Stella Wednesday was Mrs. John Reger, who traveled to Kansas City Tuesday to check the report her missing husband had been seen there a week ago.

While in Kansas City Mrs. Reger talked with Peter Larkin, a businessman who claims the Rev. Mr. Reger, missing since Spet. 3, was in his store last Thursday to make some purchases. Larkin recognized the missing pastor from a sorty and photos of the Regers were published in the Kansas City Star Sunday.

After looking at several additional pictures of the Rev. Mr. Reger which Mrs. Reger took with her, Larkin was more certain than ever that the person in his store was the missing Nebraskan.

Mrs. Reger also consulted with the Kansas City detective who had been assigned to the case.

Fire Victim's Grandpa Killed

Chicago (AP) — Thomas Paprocki, 66, of Elyria, Neb., grandfather of a girl who perished in the Dec. 1 Chicago school fire, was killed in an auto smashup on the West Side.

The girl's father, Edwin Karwacki, 36, was critically injured when his car crashed into a viaduct.

The grandfather and his wife, Catherine, 56, came to Chicago for the Dec. 5 funeral of Diane Karwacki, 9, who died in the fire that swept Our Lady of the Angels School. Eighty-nine pupils and 3 nuns died in the fire.

Police said Paprocki and Karwacki had been returning from a visit with friends at the time of the accident.

Brooks Speaking Before Chanukah

Omaha (AP) — Governor-Elect Ralph G. Brooks will speak in Omaha Sunday night, Dec. 14 at the Chanukah Festival for Israel, climaxing the 1958 State of Israel Bonds campaign.

Samuel Katzman and Samuel Rice, co-chairmen of the drive to sell $200,000 in Israel Bonds, said sales have reached more than 91% of the goal.

A highlight of the festival will be presentation of a special award to James G. McDonald, first United States ambassador to Israel.

The 8-day Chanukah holiday ends at sundown Sunday. The festival climaxes a year-long celebration of the 10th anniversary of Israel's independence.

Luxury Aftermath

Moscow (AP)—Four bookkeepers and auditors in Bor City, near Gorky, are paying a big price for 9 years of high living. The newspaper Soviet Russia reports one woman and 3 men were convicted of embezzlement and bribery that supported their luxury and sentenced to a total of 75 years.

Peterson, general manager of the Farmers Elevator Co., of Chappell, for 32 years, is a member of the executive committee of the West-Central Cooperative Grain Co., Omaha, and is former director of the Nebraska Cooperative Council.

Falls City, Neb. (AP) — C. R. "Bob" James, vice-president of the Falls City Creamery Co., has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce for 1959.

Issues Rejected

Chadron, Neb. (AP) — Chadron voters turned out in light numbers to reject two proposals in a special election.

The 640 voters who came to the polls voted 335 to 301 against issuing $30,000 in bonds for improvement of runway facilities at the Chadron airport.

They also rejected 376 to 265 a proposal to issue revenue bonds for the purchase of land for two off-street parking lots.

Peters Ends Own Life After Firing Shot At Son, 14

Beatrice, Neb. (AP)—Joseph S. Peters, 44, was found shot to death in his car Wednesday a few hours after he fired a shot at his 14-year-old son, Sheriff E. G. Maxwell said.

The sheriff called Peters' death a suicide. He said a .22 caliber rifle was lying beside Peters on the seat of the car and his finger was still on the trigger.

The sheriff said Peters' wife, Blanche, had filed suit for divorce a month ago and a restraining order had been issued in District Court, ordering Peters to stay away from the family home.

Mrs. Peters and their 14-year-old son Richard returned home Tuesday night and saw Peters' hat there, the sheriff said. The boy went upstairs and Peters stepped out of a closet and fired at him with a .22 rifle but missed. Mrs. Peters and the boy fled to a neighbor's home but by the time officers arrived, Peters had vanished.

A passer-by discovered his body slumped over the wheel of his car a mile north of Beatrice on a side road Wednesday.

Holbrook Youth Killed While Helping Push Car

Beaver City, Neb. (AP) — Larry Mohrman, 17, of Holbrook, was killed Wednesday when a car he was helping to push out of a ditch slipped and backed over him.

Mrs. Emma Laverack of the Furnas County Sheriff's office said young Mohrman and Jerry D. Cook of Arapahoe were returning from a basketball game when Cook's car slipped into a ditch, about a half mile south of Holbrook.

Mohrman was pushing the car when the accident occurred.

Last Of Jail Escapees Caught

Lamar, Mo. (AP)—The round-up of 4 prisoners who escaped from the Council Bluffs, Ia., jail Monday night was completed Wednesday.

Three of them were taken into custody Wednesday morning after they had spent the night in a tool shed at a cemetery near Liberal, Mo., northwest of here.

Brought to the Barton County Jail here by Sheriff Cecil Blanchard were Albert Tague, 25; Orville Gitzhell, 33, and Donald Stahl, 24.

John L. Barrett 18, was caught Wednesday after the car in which the 4 were riding had struck a bridge railing near Sheldon, Mo. He is being held in the Vernon County jail at Nevada.

Sheriff's officers said the trio caught Wednesday offered no resistance.

South Platte Water Supply Drops

Denver (UPI)—The Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee voted Wednesday to re-examine and update a 1951 study of the adequacy of the water supply in the 10 states in the basin.

Speakers, meanwhile, told an all-day meeting there was a serious decline in the water supply in the South Platte River Basin and an urgent need for flood control in the Denver region.

Charles Cocks, Omaha, secretary of the MBIAC, said the new water adequacy study will be based on water records not available in 1951 and the fact there has been less depletion for irrigation projects.

The study will concentrate on the feasibility of more irrigation projects above Sioux City, Iowa, and the possibility of increased navigation below that point.

The committee discussed possible legislation on the state level to provide more control for the safe operation of small boats on waterways within the basin.

Much Irrigation

Thad McLaughlin, Denver, district representative of the U.S. Geological Survey, said more than 6,000 large irrigation wells were now operating along the basin.

During 1956 all the wells in the South Platte Valley pumped more than a million acre-feet of underground water, McLaughlin said.

Col. David G. Hammond, U.S. Army engineer at Omaha, told the MBIAC there was an urgent need for flood control in the South Platte River Basin near Denver.

Rural Schoolhouse Near Fairbury Completely Destroyed By Flames

Lincoln Star Special

Fairbury, Neb. — Flames early Wednesday morning leveled the Richland Center rural schoolhouse, 6 miles north and one mile west of Fairbury.

The blaze was discovered by State Patrolman Don Mayhew about 6:30 a.m. By the time the patrolman located the schoolhouse and was able to summon help it was too late to save the structure.

Cause of the blaze was attributed to either the automatic oil burning stove or a faulty chimney.

Nine children attended school in the one-room wooden structure. Mrs. Gail on Schoenrock was teacher of District 48. The school was consolidated with another district last year.

Members of the school board met Wednesday and made arrangements to rent a nearby empty house to accommodate the pupils.

All of the furnishings in the school together with borrowed articles for a Christmas program were lost in the fire.

Arctic Air Streams Into East U.S.-

Groggy Oswego Gets 16 More Inches Of Snow

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the season settled down in the east Wednesday, but eased up in the Midwest.

Arctic air streaming into the Eastern states carried temperatures to the lowest levels of the fall at many points.

Among them were -31 in Presque Isle, Me., -17 in Boonville, N. Y., -15 in Caribou, Me., and -3 in Pittsburgh.

Oswego, N. Y., caught an additional 16 inches of snow Tuesday night and Wednesday. That raised the accumulation since Sunday to 66 inches and the total amount on the ground to 77 inches—almost 6½ feet.

Several roofs collapsed in Oswego. Most of them were on garages, storage houses and quonset huts, and no one was injured.

Motels and hotels were filled with stranded travelers. Bars and restaurants were busy.

Schools were expected to reopen Friday.

BLUE CHIPS LEAD CLIMB

New York (AP) — Blue chip stocks took fire Thursday and along with lesser quality issues forged ahead to produce the best stock market advance in two weeks and the second best of the year.

Gains of 1 to 3 points by pivotal stocks were accompanied by volume of 4,340,000 shares, the heaviest in more than two weeks, compared with 3,790,000 Tuesday.

An estimated $3,335,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

The AP 60-stock average rose $2.60 to $207.50, just a shade below the record high of $207.70. The industrials rose $4.50, the rails $1.60 and the utilities 50 cents to a new high for the year.

While the business and economic news was good, Wall Street analysts attributed the rise more to the fact that investors apparently believed the bottom of the recent market correction had been found and stocks could not be bought any cheaper for the time being.

Sentiment was bolstered also by unemployment in November remaining virtually unchanged instead of rising seasonally as expected; by forecasts of continued business recovery in 1959; and by reported Russian success with an 8,694-mile missile. The latter stimulated aircraft-missile-rocket shares.

Stocks in the latter category as well as steels, chemicals, electronics, oils and some drugs swept ahead. Motors were soft early in the session and rails were ragged but as a broad advance by industrials gathered force, these groups also hopped aboard the bandwagon.

Of 1,245 issues traded, 709 rose and 337 fell. There were 120 new highs for the year and 2 new lows.

Fourteen of the 15 most active stocks rose and one fell, Atlas Corp.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 1,610,000 shares compared with 1,620,000 Tuesday.

Long-range U.S. government bonds were mostly steady on light turnover. Corporates closed higher on expanded demand.

Corporate trading mounted to $7,020,000 par value on the big board from $6,340,000 Tuesday.

Bright Will Be Retried

. . . Mistrial

Atlanta (AP)—A mistrial was declared Wednesday in the case of George Bright, accused of taking part in the Oct. 12 bombing of a Jewish temple, after the jury deadlocked 9 to 3 for conviction.

The prosecution called Bright's case for immediate retrial, but defense attorneys pleaded physical exhaustion from the 9-day trial and obtained a postponement until next month.

The jury reported shortly before noon it had been deadlocked since Tuesday morning. It was discharged 84 hours after it received the case. It was the longest period a jury has deliberated in the memory of court officials.

Reappraisal Committee To Report To Board Tuesday

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday is expected to receive the recommendations of its personal property reappraisal committee on what steps should be taken to better equalize personal property taxes within the county.

The committee, comprised of C. Russell Mattson, Harland W. Cane and Colton S. Smith, has been studying the county's tax problems. It was established by the Board last August.

The committee has been studying these two possible recommendations:

1—The hiring of an outside professional reappraisal firm to make a reappraisal of personal property in the county and to set up a tax schedule accordingly.

2—Boosting the number of assistant assessors in County Assessor Arthur Davis' office. The new men would devote their time to examination of business inventory schedules.

Davis has favored this plan

A reappraisal of all real estate in the county was made by a professional firm about 6 years ago. But a personal property reappraisal probably would only involve business inventories and not household goods.

Dulles Preps For Paris Confab As He Recuperates

Washington (AP) — The State Department said Wednesday that Secretary Dulles, hospitalized since Friday, is doing some work in preparation for going to Paris this week-end.

Dulles is under treatment at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center for diverticulitis, inflammation of the lower intestine.

President Eisenhower was asked at his news conference whether in view of this he was considering sending someone else to meetings of western diplomatic leaders. Eisenhower said Dulles' doctors had passed along word they expect the secretary will be able to make the trip, so he had not considered naming a substitute.

New Ones?

Topeka (AP)—A woman called the Topeka State Journal and asked for names of all Kansas congressmen, saying she wanted to write them.

"Do you just want the names of those now in office or do you also want the names of the newly-elected ones?" a reporter inquired.

"Oh, did you just have an election?" the woman replied.

Kansas elected two new congressmen in the general elections Nov. 4.

Lincoln's Facilities For Cleft-Palate Surgery Called Finest In Nebraska

Lincoln possesses the very finest facilities in Nebraska for handling state-supported cleft palate surgical and care cases, Lincoln plastic surgeon Dr. G. William LeWorthy told the Board of Control Wednesday.

Dr. LeWorthy, recommended for a position on the state's cleft palate team, made the comment during a Board meeting on proposals to move state-financed cleft palate work from Omaha's Immanuel Hospital to either Bryan Memorial Hospital or Orthopedic Hospital in Lincoln.

Dr. LeWorthy said the University of Nebraska's dental college and speech therapy department were among the finest in the nation and that Lincoln has a team of cleft palate people already assembled here which would be hard to duplicate anywhere else in the state.

'Emotionalism'

He said Omaha's arguments for keeping cleft palate work in that city were based on emotionalism, and that the cleft palate team suggested by Edward Shatfon, Omaha attorney and secretary for the board of trustees of Children's Hospital, is only a team on paper.

Dr. LeWorthy also said that Children's Hospital has the highest per diem cost, about $42, of any hospital in Nebraska.

The Lincoln surgeon stated that Orthopedic Hospital lacks the modern and necessary facilities for cleft palate surgery and that to bring its facilities up to safe standards would require an additional expenditure of $3,450 to $4,000 a month by the Board.

The state would spend only $2,500 additionally to move the services to Bryan Hospital, Dr. LeWorthy said.

Alcorn Appears

Dr. F. A. Alcorn, director of Lincoln Orthopedic, said the hospital could accommodate cleft palate cases for an additional $2,287 per month.

Others attending the meeting included Dr. Fritz Teal, bone surgeon at Lincoln Orthopedic, who testified in favor of bringing the services to Orthopedic, and Dr. Frank Stewart, Lincoln pediatrician who also is chief of crippled children's surgery for the state.

Mrs. Catherine Martin, Board chairman, said the Board would study testimony delivered at the meeting before making a decision on location of the work, and would also ask Rehabilitation, Inc. to submit estimated costs of retaining the services in Omaha.

Vic Says Route For Interstate 'Up To New Administration

The politically "hot-potato" on the location of the interstate highway through central and western Nebraska apparently will be up to Governor-elect Ralph Brooks.

Gov. Victor Anderson said Wednesday he thought the location "should be the responsibility of the new administration."

The Highway Department has been conducting studies of whether the super-highway should be located north of the Platte River or south of the River through central and western Nebraska, and citizens of both areas have been quite vocal in their demands that it be located in their territories.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said the studies are not yet completed for the route from Doniphan west to the state's border.

Gov. Anderson said Wednesday he believes that "on anything outside of what is routine, I don't think I should set policy."

Brooks answered that he thinks Gov. Anderson "has the prerogative to make any decision he wants" on the highway location.

"Every tub must stand on its own bottom and it's not my place to comment on the governor's statement," Brooks said.

He added that he assumes Gov. Anderson "is acting with the utmost wisdom in the matter."

Routing of the four-lane highway between Omaha and Pleasant Dale, just west of Lincoln, was announced 3 years ago. Ress said earlier this year that from Pleasant Dale the route would proceed straight west to Doniphan, but the exact location would await final determination of the entire route.

Jobless Up Only 28,000 In November

Washington (AP) — Government figures showed Wednesday that unemployment increased by only 28,000 in November, to 3,833,000.

The increase was so small that the Labor and Commerce Departments viewed it as meaning there was virtually no change, whereas seasonal gains had been expected.

While the picture looked good for last month, government specialists said unemployment might rise seasonally during January and February to the 5-million level of last year.

Total Fell

Total employment was shown to have fallen during November by 653,000 to 64,653,000. This drop was laid chiefly to seasonal curtailment of farm work.

Most of those leaving farm jobs were said to have withdrawn from the labor force entirely instead of seeking new work. A number of previously unemployed factory workers were recalled, especially in auto plants.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment in November was 5.9% of the total labor force, the lowest it has been in 10 months. Last spring and late last summer it had gone to 7.5%.

Whole Question

Bonn (AP)—West German Socialist leader Erich Ollenhaur suggested the West offer to negotiate with Russia on the whole German question—not just Berlin.

He criticized Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government for insisting the talks be limited to Berlin and declared this attitude would only lead to a flat Soviet rejection in a fruitless exchange of notes.
